U.S. Dependents Prepare To Pull Out

Rebels in Lebanon Pressing Effort To Topple Chamoun

BEIRUT (AP) — American families had the go-ahead to move out of Lebanon today as the anti-government rebels kept up a determined, bloody stand before U. N. Secretary Dag Hammarskjold 's arrival to direct his international team of observers.

Bitter fighting broke out in the capital Saturday and continued Sunday until government security forces pinned down the insurgents in their strongholds at the center of Beirut. Heavy shooting stopped by noon, but sporadic firing and bombing were heard the rest of the day.

Offers Free East Transportation

In the gravest warning to Americans in the Middle East since the 1956 Suez crisis, the U. S. Embassy offered free transportation out of the strife-torn country to dependents of embassy staff members. The 5,000 other Americans in Beirut were urged to stay off the streets.

So far no foreigners have been hurt in the month-old rebellion against President Camille Chamoun's pro-Western government, which charges the insurgents have been directed by President Nasser's United Arab Republic and inspired by its pan-Arab expansionist policies.

The Lebanese casualties have been reckoned with upward of 500. Fighting Saturday killed 50 persons, and the large number of ambulances in Beirut Sunday was evidence of the continuing bitter battle.

Premier Saml Solh's downtown house was sacked and set afire by rebels, but he had moved out and was living with his daughter in another part of the city.

Leader's Home Shelled

Security forces shelled the roof and top floor of rebel leader Saeb Salam's home. Salam was unhurt, but one of his lieutenants, Adnan Nahas, was killed.

Hammarskjold is due here Tuesday night to attend the first formal meeting of the U. N. observation team sometime this week. The observer force is expected to total 27 by the end of the week—17 who have already arrived from the U .N. truce organization in Palestine and 10 from Norway.

A June 11 Security Council resolution charges the team with stopping any arms or men from getting through to the rebels.

British Adding 3,000 Men to Cyprus Forces

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP)—British jet transports loaded with paratroopers began streaking into Cyprus today in the second phase of a troop buildup to keep peace on this Mediterranean island.

About 3,000 paratroopers will bolster the permanent British force of 25,000.

The paratroopers arrived as fears were being voiced here and abroad that the strife between Turkish and Greek Cypriots may spread into a conflict that could crack the eastern arm of the North Atlantic Alliance.

In Turkey, mobs cried "Partition or death." This was their demand that Britain divide the island between the 400,000 Greek Cypriots and the 140,000 Turks.

The Turks bitterly oppose the Greek demand that this island—a British crown colony—be turned over to Greece.

Former Guard Pleads Guilty; Held on Bond

Elmore S. Clark, 42, of Upper Sandusky, arraigned in Marion Municipal Court this morning on a charge of aiding and abetting a prisoner to escape and two other charges, pleaded guilty and was bound over to the Marion County grand jury and is being held in the county jail in lieu of $10,000 bond.

Clark, a former institution guard, was taken into custody in Toledo Friday and returned to Marion on warrants signed by Lamoyne Green, superintendent of the Marion Correctional Institution.

He was charged with aiding Robert W. Strother, 35, of Toledo, to walk away from the insitution May 6. Clark, a former guard at the institution, resigned his job June 9.

Strother, serving a 1-5 year sentence on a charge of possession of burglary tools, was captured the night he left the institution by Lucas County sheriff's deputies.

Clark was charged also with conveying contraband articles into the institution while employed as a guard, and harboring a felon. He was accused of picking up Strother after he walked away from the institution, taking him to Toledo and making arrangements for him to stay in a motel.

Summit Strategy Session Seen

Russian Ambassadors Called to Moscow Talk

LONDON (AP)—The Soviet government has summoned its ambassadors in London and Washington to Moscow for consultations —presumably connected with intensified East-West summit and nuclear arms negotiations.

Jacob Malik left his London post by plane shortly after it was revealed that Mikhail Menshikov had slipped out of Washington and headed for the Soviet capital.

Malik told reporters: "I am going on business. When one goes to do business in one's own country, it is always a pleasure."

He did not disclose the nature of his business or how long he would be away. Ten officials of the Soviet Embassy saw him off.

Recently the pace of diplomatic exchanges between Moscow and the West has quickened.

Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev sent lengthy communications last week to President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Macmillan dealing with summit matters. Contents of these notes have not yet been made public.

Menshikov Takes Off For Moscow 'Mission'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Soviet Ambassador Mikhail Menshikov was flying back to Moscow today, perhaps to report on the progress of his hail-fellow-well-met brand of diplomacy here.

Without any advance public notice, Menshikov left New York yesterday aboard a Scandinavian Airliner plane which landed early today in Copenhagen. He then switched to a Soviet airliner.

A Soviet Embassy official, who confirmed his departure, said

Prober Discloses Another Adams Bill Goldfine Paid

Waldorf Tab Picked Up by Industrialist

'All Facts' Promised In Controversy Over President's Assistant

WASHINGTON (AP) —, House investigators produced evidence today that industrialist Bernard Goldfine had paid bills for Sherman Adams at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel in New York at about the time a government agency was closing out a case against Goldfine.

Adams is President Eisenhower's No. 1 aide. The Waldorf bills for Adams and Mrs. Adams came to $267.05. They were run up at the plush New York hotel in January and February, 1954.

In the same period, Investigator Francis X. McLaughlin told a House subcommittee, the Federal Trade Commission was settling a complaint against Goldfine's Northfield Mills.

Promised To Halt Practice

A Goldfine textile company promised that it would halt alleged mislabeling of certain cloth and the matter was closed on that basis.

The law provides various alternative actions in cases of charges of mislabeling. One is an agreement not to do it again. In cases of violations considered wilful, the Federal Trade Commission can prosecute criminally in the courts and, if there is a conviction, the penalties can run up to $5,000 fine and a year's imprisonment.

Hagerty Holds Conference

Later Goldfine and some of his mills were involved in other charges of alleged mislabeling. This resulted in a cease and desist order, to which Goldfine and the companies consented though admitting no wrong doing. There was no criminal prosecution.

While the House subcommittee headed by Rep. Oren Harris

Youth Drowns While Fishing In Farm Pond

Morrow County's first drowning in nearly two years occurred Sunday night when Dale Conant, 17, of near Cardington, drowned in a three-acre farm pond while fishing with three companions.

The mishap occurred on the Hollis Jones farm three miles south of Cardington about 9:30 p.m. The boy's three companions were fishing on one side of the pond while Conant was on the other.

The youths told Cardington police the first indication they had of Conant being in danger was when he called out for help from the far side of the pond.

Rescue units from Delaware County and Mount Gilead were called to the scene as well as Cardington authorities. The body was recovered about 12:30 a.m. today in 10 feet of water.

Although the four had not engaged in swimming during their fishing outing, it was theorized that Conant might have attempted to swim across the three-acre pond to join his friends. The body was only scantily clothed when found. Other clothing had been discarded on a bank.

A senior at Cardington High School, the youth was the son of Marion Conant of near Cardington. He was born Aug. 12, 1940, in Marengo and lived near Cardington five years. Before that time he had resided in Fulton.

Survivors in addition to his father are a sister, Mrs. Virgie Marshall of Marengo, three brothers, Clifford of Phoenix, George of Marengo and Kenneth at home.

Other survivors are a half brother, James Robert at home, two stepsisters, Shirley and Susan Earhart, and two stepbrothers, David and Roger Earhart, all at home. His mother preceded him in death.

Friends may call at the Curl Funeral Home. Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

Rev. Spickerman Praised at Banquet

Bishop Addresses Gathering After Special Mass

By ALLAN BOVEY

"This is truly Father's Day."

Thus did the Most Rev. Clarence G. Issenmann, bishop of Columbus, in a play on words of Sunday's national observance, pay tribute to the Very Rev. William J. Spickerman, pastor of St. Mary Catholic Church, at a testimonial dinner Sunday in the latter's honor.

Bishop Issenmann was guest speaker at the fete which climaxed activities comprising "Father Spickerman Week" in Marion.

SOME 400 persons attended the banquet in the UAW-Union Hall on Leader St. at which the Rev. Fr. Spickerman was guest of honor in recognition of 50 years in the ministry and 30 years as pastor of St. Mary Church.

Bishop Issenmann suggested that the Rev. Fr. Spickerman's 30 years as "chief shepherd" of the St. Mary parish, made him "not only a 'father', but a 'grandfather' as well."

"It is a great honor for you to be recognizing a pastor celebrating a golden jubilee," the bishop told his audience, and added: "It should give each of you great satisfaction to so honor one who has ascended to the altar of God's service." Bishop Issenmann said the week-long fete was a tribute to Fr. Spickerman's parishioners as well as to the pastor himself.

THE BISHOP declared that the "greatest honor you can pay a priest of the caliber of Fr. Spickerman is to have another of your sons follow in his footsteps. It is comforting to know that when we are gone, others are ready to take our place."

Bishop Issenmann urged that St. Mary parishioners encourage their sons to enter the priesthood. "No greater work can be done than that accomplished by the priesthood for Almighty God," he asserted.

The speaker was introduced by the Rev. William O'Brian, dean of the western deanery, of which Marion is a part, and pastor of

De Gaulle Bids For Talk With British Leader

French Premier May Set Up Parley With Macmillan June 27

PARIS (AP) — Premier de Gaulle will confer with British Prime Minister Macmillan before the end of this month.

Official sources said no precise date has yet been set for the meeting, but June 27 is mentioned frequently.

It will be De Gaulle's first meeting with a top leader of The Western Alliance since taking office. It will precede by about a week his scheduled talks with U. S. Secretary of State Dulles July 5.

More Independent Role

Although the general has pledged his allegiance to the Western Alliance, it is understood he foresees a more independent role for France within it.

De Gaulle returned today from a country weekend to find his desk piled high with North African problems.

De Gaulle's designated representative in North Africa, Gen. Raoul Salan, officially took over the resident minister's office in the Algiers government headquarters building today. But informed sources said De Gaulle was planning a second trip to Algeria within the next month to tighten his authority there.

Authority Still in Question

The Premier designated Salan civil and military governor during his trip two weeks ago. De Gaulle's presence in Algeria put the lid on the army and right-wingers who staged the May 13 revolt against the Paris regime but the Premier's authority over the dissidents is still questionable.

Algeria's two neighbors, Morocco and Tunisia, were also posing problems for the 67-year-old premier.

President Habib Bourguiba met in Tunis with Moroccan foreign Minister Ahmed Balafrej. Officially they met to sign a friendship treaty. But the political leader of the Algerian nationalist rebels, Ferhat Abbas, also headed for Tunis, to be available to discuss the nationalist war against the French in Algeria.

In Morocco, the French were negotiating the withdrawal of some of their soldiers — which Tunisia also wants.

The war in Algeria continued with no sign of a letup.

1,000 Forced To Flee

Flood Threatens Terre Haute Area

TERRE HAUTE, Ind. (AP) — Floodwaters of a Wabash River tributary picked up speed today, after overwhelming an earthen levee protecting the city of West Terre Haute, and spread out to inundate 30 per cent of the community.

The 4,000 residents of this western Indiana town near the Illinois border had been alerted Sunday night to the danger from swollen Sugar Creek. Civil Defense officials reported no casualties among the 1,000 persons forced from their homes.

An Indiana National Guard truck, a jeep and a pickup truck were swept away when the river poured over the levee at 2:30 a.m. about a mile upstream from where the creek empties into the Wabash.

Six on Levee Rescued

Six men working on the levee were rescued.

The water flowed across U.S. 40 five blocks west of the Wabash and closed the heavily traveled highway.

West Terre Haute firemen prepared to shift their equipment to a schoolhouse on higher ground.

Engineers inspected the main Wabash bridge on U.S. 40 connecting Terre Haute with its sister city, and decided not to close the structure.

Extra Troopers Called

Residents piled themselves and their furniture on trucks. Many persons were taken to a Red Cross emergency center in the Central Grade School. Many had to be forced to leave.

National Guardsmen and Army reservists aided police in patroling the city against looters.

Authorities estimated 40 per cent of the West Terre Haute community would be flooded before the Wabash reached its predicted crest.

Extra state troopers, National Guardsmen and 40 prisoners from the nearby state penal farm were rushed into the area Sunday night after Gov. Harold W. Handley declared a state of emergency. The prisoners, under guard, went to

700 American-Flag Ships Affected

East, Gulf Coast Ports Hit by Maritime Strike

NEW YORK (AP)—Two maritime unions struck today, refusing to sail without contracts.

The walkout of 1,700 engineers and 10,000 unlicensed tanker seamen could tie up nearly 700 American-flag ships operating out of East and Gulf Coast ports.

The striking unions, the Marine Engineers Beneficial Assn. and the National Maritime Union, said negotiations would pick up again later in the day. Meanwhile, they said, "no contract, no sailing."

Hits Freighters and Tankers

The engineers are employed on 448 dry cargo and passenger ships, the 10,000 seamen on 231 oil tankers.

There is no large passenger ship berthed in New York now and none is expected to sail before Wednesday. The walkouts do not affect ships at sea.

The Marine Engineers struck after the union rejected a contract offer by the Dry Cargo and Passenger Ship Operators.

The strike by the tanker seamen was unexpected. The NMU had tentatively approved a three-year contract covering about 30,000 unlicensed seamen employed on the dry cargo and passenger ships.

Earn $569 Monthly

Another maritime union, the American Radio Assn., representing 500 operators, reached agreement on a new contract with the American Merchant Marine Institute, representing the employers.

The settlement came after an all - night bargaining session. Terms were not immediately disclosed. Under the old contract the radiomen received $569 monthly for a 40-hour work week.

Knowland Has Support on Bid To Limit Pacts

Bridges Joins Efforts To Cut 5-Year Trade Extension to 3 Years

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Styles Bridges (R-NH) today joined Sen. William F. Knowland (R-Calif) in a drive to limit to three years the extension of the reciprocal trade law.

Bridges, who heads the Senate Republican Policy Committee, said in an interview he will not go along with a House-passed five-year extension which President Eisenhower has asked Congress to approve.

"The present Republican administration will be in power another 2½ years," Bridges said. "Nobody knows what will happen in the 1960 elections and I see no reason for taking any chances and extending this authority for five years."

James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, said Saturday Eisenhower wants the five-year extension voted by the House, and will continue to work for passage of the bill in that form. He apparently will need strong support from Democrats.

As approved by the House, the bill would provide optional methods for tariff regulation by which the President could cut rates by as much as 10 per cent in any year's period but not more than 25 per cent over five years. Any rate now more than half of the value of a product could be reduced to 50 per cent.

Ohio State Branch Cancels Plans for Summer Quarter

The tentatively-scheduled summer quarter program at the Marion branch of Ohio State University has been canceled due to insufficient registrations, C. Eugene Maynard, local director, announced today.

Commenting on the cancellation, Prof. Kenneth Arisman, branch coordinator from the OSU campus, said original plans had not called for instigating a summer schedule before 1959.

He added that since considerable interest was shown earlier, plans continued on a tentative basis to determine if sufficient registrations would be forthcoming.

The fall quarter at OSUM, scheduled to start about Oct. 1, will include both freshman and sophomore courses, Mr. Maynard said. Applications for the fall quarter may be obtained any time at the branch office in Harding High School.

The office will remain open throughout the summer, Monday through Friday from 1 to 5 p.m.

Denver Native Marks Milestone

Josephine Roche Makes Career of Welfare Work

WASHINGTON (AP)—Josephine Roche presides today over a national health conference, marking another minor milestone in a major career of helping others.

Her varied career ranges from cleaning up Denver's red light district as one of the nation's first policewomen to spending a billion dollars as director of the United Mine Workers' welfare and retirement fund. She'd had that job for 10 years, and at 71 is still working hard at it.

The daughter of a rich and conservative businessman, she followed her father into the presidency of the Rocky Mountain Fuel Co. in Denver, but she had ideas of her own.

When as a young girl her father had forbidden her to visit his coal mines because they were dangerous, she asked: "Then why is it safe enough for the miners?"

Today she chairs a national conference of labor health services—a two-day session devoted to the same general aim, but keyed to worker health needs.

Miss Roche got after Denver's prostitutes and vice back in 1912. A reform group took over the city and made Miss Roche, then 26, one of the nation's first policewomen. She took the job seriously.

She's disarmingly charming, with soft, wavy gray hair and pleasant, sweet-looking features. She was married in 1920 but ended it with a divorce two years later.

Once, after her father died and left her to run his coal mines, she attended a government wage hearing. The presiding official, impressed at seeing her in the audience of hard-bitten owners and miners, asked her to come sit on the platform.

"This hearing needs some beauty," he wrote her in a note.

"What this hearing needs," she scribbled back, "is not beauty but guts."

Born Dec. 2, 1886, in Neligh, Neb., Miss Roche has been an adviser to many American presidents. She once headed the U. S. Public Health Service under Franklin D. Roosevelt.

A new baby means new responsibilities.

How good should a good provider be?

Neighbors and friends can't really judge whether a man is a good provider. They can see the house, the car, the gifts. But this is only half the picture.

The other half lies hidden. It may include such things as a deed, savings account books, life insurance. Things to help provide for the family's future.

The man who has the life insurance he needs passes one major test of a good provider. He knows he is meeting a vital responsibility to those who depend on him.

His wife knows it, too. And the bond between them is stronger for this knowledge that they alone possess.

Fatal Signs of Summer Arrive

Drownings Boost Ohio Weekend Fatality Toll

By The Associated Press

Summer doesn't officially begin until next Saturday, but already there are signs of its coming-fatal signs.

Warm weather usually brings about an increase in drownings, and in Ohio over the weekend there were four.

A Cleveland man was fishing from a bridge when he apparently fell into the lake below. A 2-year-old Geauga County boy stumbled into a pond near his home. A 19-year-old Barnesville youth went swimming in an old strip mine pit, apparently hit his head on a rock and drowned.

The fourth victim was a Circleville area man whose boat overturned in the Scioto River. He was last seen clinging to an inflated inner tube. His body has not been found.

Boy Strangles in Crib

One other death fell into the miscellaneous category-a one-year old boy who strangled while playing in his crib.

On the state's highways, meanwhile, 13 lives were lost.

The fatalities:

Friday night:

Carl H. Crites, 38, Lafayette (Allen County), when his car went off a county road and hit a tree five miles east of Lima.

Saturday:

Mrs. Josie Reyes, 20, and her daughter, Sylvia, 2, Chicago, Ill., when their auto was crushed by a Pennsylvania Railroad train at Gibsonburg near Fremont.

Sandra Ewen, 17, of near Columbus, when the truck in which she was riding went out of control on Ohio 257 north of Dublin.

Robert A. King, 20, East Toledo, in a three-car accident east of Toledo on a county road.

Auto Hits Bridge Abutment

Mrs. Betty Holm, 31, Cleveland, when the car in which she was riding struck a bridge abutment in Cleveland.

Richard Stair, 35, Cleveland, when a car driven in that city by a companion backed up accidentally, striking him.

Mrs. Frances Pioprowski, 33, Reading, Pa., in a head-on automobile collision on U.S. 40 six miles east of Zanesville.

Mrs. Alice Tucker, 35, Akron, when a car in which she was riding struck a tree in Akron.

John Greer, 38, Cleveland, drowned when he apparently fell from a bridge from which he was fishing in Lake Rockwell near Ravenna.

Glenn Forrest, 30, of near Circleville, drowned when a boat upset in rain-swollen Scioto River just south of the Franklin-Pickaway County line.

Boy Drowns in Pond

Orien Lee Hill, 2, Newbury Twp., Geauga County, drowned when he stumbled into a deep pond near his home.

Russell Siepp, 1, Mentor Twp., near Willoughby, strangled while playing in a crib at his home.

Sunday:

Clyde A. Bowles, 31, Chillicothe, when his car went off a county road on a curve two miles east of Chillicothe.

Joseph B. Gray, 87, Bellows Falls, Vt., who was staying at a rest home in Wellsville, when he walked into the side of a truck in that Columbiana County town.

Mrs. Helen Behrwind, 57, Cincinnati, in a two-car collision on Ohio 4 in Fairfield (Butler County)

Charles R. Mehler, 19, Barnesville, drowned when he apparently hit his head on a rock while swimming in an old strip mine pit near that Belmont County town.

Sarah Cooley, Rt. 5, Hillisboro, struck by a car as she walked on U.S. 50 three miles west of that Highland County seat.

Drive Safely All the Time, Council Urges

Most Americans are good drivers, despite the high traffic toll.

This pat on the back for the average motorist comes from the National Safety Council as it opens its annual appeal for Fourth of July holiday safety.

Proving its point, the council notes that the average driver must make 20 to 50 decisions an hour, many of them involving life or death. The low dath rate of 5.9 fatalities per 100 million miles of travel proves that most drivers made the right decisions, the council adds.

Most persons want to be good drivers and pride themselves in their skill and common sense. They obey the law and do not want to hurt any member of their own family or a stranger in some other car, the council argues.

"Then why do we have accidents?" the council questions.

One reason is carelessness which may slip up on the best of drivers, the council says.

Other reasons are fatigue that results in irritability with other drivers, too fast driving, improper passing, drinking and distractions.

The safety council estimates 45 million cars will be on the highways over the holiday and urges: "Don't be a good driver just most of the time. You can't afford to make even one mistake — be a good driver every second you are behind the wheel."

Crash Fatal to 2

WAYNESBURG, Pa. (AP) — John Atnip, 25, of East Liverpool, Ohio, and Isaac Lemley Jr., 22, of Blacksville, W. Va., were fatally injured when their car overturned and caught fire on Pennsylvania 18 near here Friday night.

Atnip was pulled from the wreckage by another motorist, William Dodtson of Painesville, Ohio. He died Saturday in a hospital. Lemley was killed instantly.

Advertises for Wife

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Carl Lullen, 37-year-old widower from Sligo, Ky., recently advertised in newspapers for a wife. He got only three answers and none suited him, mainly because the women who answered were too old.

But, undaunted, Lullen says he'll keep trying because he needs a wife "to housekeep for me and my two kids."

FAMILY CUSTOM

OGDEN, Utah (AP) — Dennis R. Earl felt right at home when he joined the Naval Reserve here. He was sworn in by his father, Lt. Comdr. Lemuel R. Earl. His brother Lemuel Jr., also a reservist, was on hand for the ceremony.

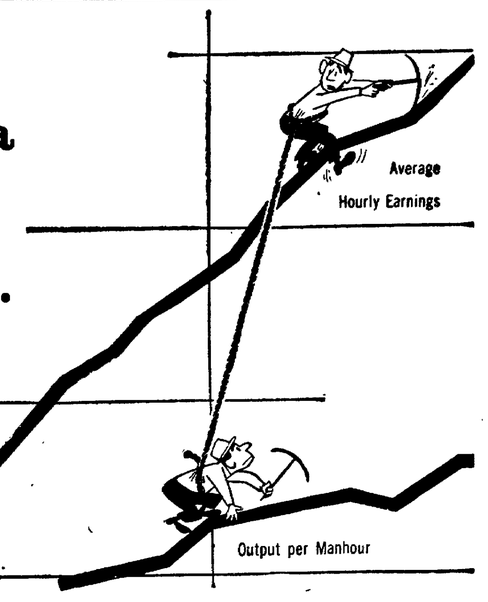
They gotta stay together...



Output per Manhour has to do some climbing, too

Mountain climbers tie themselves together. They don't do it to hold each other back, but so they can climb without getting hurt. Makes sense, but note they have to move together, or there's no progress.

If we are ever going to lick inflation, those two chaps are going to have to stick together better than they have been. Output per Manhour is 'way behind.

U. S. Bureau of Labor Statistics figures show average hourly earnings of workers in manufacturing industries in the last ten years have risen 59 percent while output per man-hour increased only 27.1 percent in all private industry except farms. The disparity is even greater when all employment costs for hourly and salaried employees are taken into account as they must be.

In steel the figures for the same period showed output even farther behind — this despite company investments of millions in improved processes and modern equipment.

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug counter.

The Subject Is Legislative Oversight

Sherman Adams knows how politics works. There is no reason to be concerned about his ability to come out even in the give-and-take of his profession.

But there is reason to be concerned about the effect of the latest give-and-take on his fellow citizens, especially those who do not distinguish between the kind of allegation that has put Mr. Adams under a publicity cloud and the purpose of the congressional investigation which produced the allegation.

The purpose of the investigation is to learn whether improper influence was brought to bear on a federal regulatory commission. The investigation is being made by the House subcommittee on legislative oversight, whose job is to "oversee" the regulatory agencies.

The purpose of the snear against Mr. Adams, on the other hand, is to impair his efficiency as chief assistant to President Eisenhower and, if possible, to drive him out of government.

It is unlikely the subcommittee can prove his friendship with Bernard Goldfine of Boston led to improper influence on any federal commission; Mr. Adams is too old a hand to have done anything officially that would hurt either him or his friend.

But the disclosure of his friendship with Mr. Goldfine and the favors he received from Mr. Goldfine can hurt him severely. Democrats in Congress never have forgiven Republicans for the "mess in Washington" scandals that ruined Harry Truman's availability for renomination in 1952. It would be a triumph beyond their fondest expectations if they could discredit the assistant Republican president, himself. Some of them already have begun to call for his dismissal—and there are Republicans just as anxious to destroy Mr. Adams as they are.

The game the politicos are playing is worth the candle they are burning, from their point of view. They are playing partisan politics for all it is worth, which is Mr. Adams' specialty, too.

But it should not be lost sight of that the subcommittee on legislative oversight is supposed to learn whether Mr. Goldfine received special favors from any regulatory commission because he knew Mr. Adams. That is another matter—government, not politics.

Tariff Still a Local Issue

In the 24 years since reciprocal trade became national policy, all the things that were expected to change have remained the same.

Tariff is still a local issue for politicians. Protection for specific industries still is a necessity in conflict with the necessity of buying as well as selling in the foreign market.

The dilemma that concerned William McKinley, who once had been the ablest spokesman for tariff protection when the country's industrialism was gathering strength, still puzzles congressmen. How to live in an interdependent world without sacrificing a little independence?

For McKinley, tariff always was an issue of national policy. The purpose of tariff protection was to build a strong industrial foundation. But once the foundation had been built, even a protectionist would have to concede, as McKinley conceded, that reciprocity would be needed to keep the country strong. The tilt between protectionists and those who wanted reciprocity began before the turn of the century and is still continuing.

In the latest showdown, reciprocity has been renewed by a one-sided House vote in a stronger form than ever before — for five years, instead of only two years, as in the past. This was done by the combined votes of Democrats and Republicans, with Democrats supporting the Eisenhower administration more strongly than Republicans.

This kind of coalition has given rise to the truism that tariff is essentially a local issue in politics that cuts across party lines, as it did in the House vote this year. What the Senate vote will look like is anyone's guess, but it probably will turn out the same way.

When all the protectionist speeches have been made for the record, senators who feel they must vote for protection to represent their states will vote that way. But senators whose states have a balance of interest between reciprocity and protection will resolve the difference in favor of reciprocity — and they will be the majority.

Sedatives and Blood Transfusion

If we understand what railroads in distress really wanted from Congress this session, it was tax relief.

But instead of proposing that railroads be given this kind of relief, the Senate bill that has gone over to the House proposes that they be given 700 million dollars' worth of borrowing power, plus some future assistance in the form of Interstate Commerce Commission policies regulating barge lines and independent truckers.

The effect of the proposal is to give the railroads a prescription for sedatives and the guarantee of a future blood transfusion, when what they asked for was emergency treatment to keep them from bleeding to death.

This is in keeping with the legislative credo that the art of government lies in compromise; that no supplicant for legislative relief ever should get what is requested but a compromise between what he asks for and what his severest critics think he deserves.

Thus, if the railroads that are in financial trouble ask Congress for bread, they do not get a stone but a loaf of bread with a stone baked in it. If they want a wartime excise tax removed, because it is out of date and injurious, they do not get the tax removed. But they get a promise that unregulated competition by independent truckers will be removed. Instead of relief from corporate income taxes undermining their capital structure, they get a promise of relief from rate structures that put them behind the 8-ball in competition with barge lines.

"It's a hell of a way to run a railroad," as they say at the roundhouse. But it may prove to be a hot-shot way to ruin a couple.

Highwaymen Who Wear Badges

A useful service to automobile drivers has been performed in the June issue of Reader's Digest with publication of an article on traffic traps in Florida.

This is an old racket that is holding its lease on prosperity — and let there be no uncertainty about the difference between a traffic trap and legitimate enforcement of traffic laws.

A traffic trap is for revenue. Legitimate enforcement of traffic laws is for safety. A highwayman with a badge always will claim he is interested in safety. But every automobile driver held up on a hair-splitting charge knows when he has been victimized by a racket.

Dozens of racketeers on highways carrying Florida traffic have prospered by preying on motorists who had no choice but to pay up or go to jail on such charges as going a few miles over an arbitrary speed limit. But in Florida, itself, there has been a drive against the highwaymen, and it is succeeding.

Motorists victimized in other states can take heart. The traffic trap operated to produce local income with close enforcement of traffic regulations designed to catch suckers is easy to detect but hard to get rid of, because of its bogus legality. But it can be done.

Years ago, when many Ohio communities preyed on the motoring public, there was one device in particular that gave fits to highwaymen with badges — a conspicuous sign erected just outside the town boundary line warning motorists they were entering a traffic trap. The general effect was the same as "High Voltage: Keep Out."

The vast majority of motorists respect enforcement of traffic laws on a safety basis. No one has any obligation to respect the misuse of traffic laws to give an air of legality to a traffic trap, which is a revenue racket, whether found on the road to Florida or on any road back home.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Father's Day is the day when the rest of the family admits he's welcome on the premises, restores diplomatic relationships with him and for a couple of hours gives the order to cease fire.

The attention leaves him groggily muttering, "There's a catch in this somewhere." He tries to look happily surprised by the love and affection, but keeps gazing nervously behind him, sure he is never in more danger than when disarmed by kindness.

DAD IS KING for a Day. (Give or take 22 hours.) For a brief interval he is pardoned for having personal opinions, wanting his eggs sunnyside up, reading the paper at meals and saying he is too tired to set up the collapsible porch chairs. A mood described as sheer ugliness 364 days a year is now accepted as proof of a whimsical nature.

Mother observes at last that he looks a little the worse for wear. The kids show a modest sympathy if he says he aches all over. For once nobody is using his safety razor, as he has three new ones as special gifts.

If the dog has chewed up his best socks it is okay. He has six new pairs on the dresser. On this day he finds somebody has paid attention to his off-repeated squawk, "How do you tell the sleeves in this bathrobe from the other holes?"

IT IS A DAY when he is not asked to mow the lawn, dig new fence post holes, paint the garage or change the auto tires. If he so far forgets himself as to bellow, "Now I want youze all to get this," it is attributed to nerves and not to viciousness. On Father's Day he gets respect and consideration, garnished with love, kisses, applesauce and loud neckties. All but the neckties cancellable without notice. He gets his steak cooked the way he likes it and there is no comment if he criticizes the dessert.

It is a day of tribute and extreme kindness beyond the call of duty. It leaves the old guy in pretty bad shape.

IF WRAPPERS AND LABELS are to be used as subway fares to promote soap, why doesn't some JAM manufacturer get into the act?

The New York Zoo was closed for a day by a walkout. Cautious Caleb stayed indoors fearing the lions and tigers might go out in sympathy.

Clearing His Vision

Welfare Pork Barrel

By Raymond Moley

The Douglas "Area Redevelopment Bill," S.3683, has passed the Senate and is now pending in the House. Were its implications not so serious, it could easily pass as an act of comedy.

Never, since the once famous but now almost forgotten EPIC movement promoted by Upton Sinclair in California in 1934, has anything so absurd seriously approached reality.

Indeed, it has the same basic elements as the older "production for use, not profit" crazes. For it would, through a federal bureaucracy, enter an area, either industrial or rural which is not doing well economically and open up abandoned or unused factories, bring in new machinery and presumably put people to work making whatevery they could make—all with federal money.

I see no reason why the same thing could not happen, under the terms of the bill, with abandoned farms.

MOREOVER, the plan would be to seize upon the idle, rusty individuals in the area and put them into vocational schools.

Then, when everybody was working at producing what was not needed, "prevailing wage rates" would be paid for a 40-hour week.

It should be noted first that this adventure in socialism (for it is the Fourier type which flourished and failed back in the 1840's) is to be bestowed, according to the bill, only on places where there has been long-term and "persistent" distress.

Thus, it cannot be merely a scheme to help a community which is suddenly in trouble because of this recession.

It would aim to bring to life cases of chronic community deterioration. So it would not be a temporary affair but would continue on and on, for chronic illness needs protracted treatment.

FORTY-SIX SENATORS voted for this, in many cases not so much to rehabilitate decayed industry and farms but to rebuild broken-down political fences. For nothing but a pork barrel would have rallied some of the co-sponsors who helped Douglas put the show on the road.

To their everlasting credit, minority senators on the Banking and Currency Committee scored the bill with blistering and incontrovertible facts. They were Senators Fulbright, Robertson, Frear, Capehart, Bricker, Bennett and Bush.

These senators pointed out in their minority report the fraudulent nature of the claim that the plan would appreciably help unemployment. At the time it passed the committee the bill would have affected only one in eight of the unemployed.

It would also, according to the minority, discriminate in favor of only a limited number of communities and put them into competition with other communities which for normal reasons had taken business away from distressed ones.

Moreover, it completely ignores the existence of at least two agencies already in existence, designed to help such distress — one in the Department of Commerce, the other in the Department of Agriculture. Both agencies were helped by new money voted in April, 1958.

The Douglas bill would also, under a new and fancy name, "retraining subsistence payments," provide supplementary unemployment compensation, which has already been provided by a bill passed recently and signed by the President.

The minority sums up with this: "Instead of attempting to find a real solution to the problems of chronic unemployment, the sponsors of this bill have followed the easy but not always wise policy of finding a new channel in which to pour federal funds."

Congress is still in session and therefore we little know what economic and political sins will be committed in the name of stopping the recession. But this bill may well indicate what may be invented under that guise.

Rockets in Their Pockets

By Truman Twill

Every scribbler with a piece of paper is going to have something to say about the pocket-size rocket whose designer is aiming to give a big boost to mankind.

This is the proverbial firecracker that the Human Improvement Assn. has been dreaming about ever since black powder was invented. It may not be the answer to the problem of getting sluggards into orbit, but no one can dispute that it is the most ambitious attempt reported so far.

At least, it is better than those pep pills that people are taking on the sly to supply them with the get-up-and-go they otherwise would lack. There is no way to tell who has been taking pep pills without a saliva test. But anyone boosting his takeoff with a rocket will be easy to identify by the dragon-fire effect. Flames will be shooting out of his tail. His secret will show.

There is a serious side to all these efforts to add energy to the built-in supply of homo sapiens. They reflect an unhealthy conviction that the human race needs to thrash about faster than it was designed to thrash in order to overcome its human handicap.

The ambition to go whizzing into nongravitational space is an outgrowth of this sickly frame of mind. Whatever happened to the healthier idea that the human race would be better off if it concentrated on sitting still on earth long enough to wonder where it is going, before it touches off a fresh fuse to get somewhere it never has been before — and faster and funnier?

Most of us have known a few more than a fair share of specimens with rockets in their hip-pockets and have marveled at their ability to go into an earth-orbiting act whenever their fuse was lit. Most of us have envied them at some time when our own sluggishness seemed to be a handicap.

But over the long pull, we have noted something disturbing about them — the fact that they worshiped motion for its own sake. They were about as handy to have around as a bunch of bats in a living room and invited the same fate; that is, everybody tried to swat them down so there could be peace and quiet.

This is not a knock at energy-packed humans who use their energy for proper purposes; who know where they want to go and proceed to get there as rapidly as possible. It is a knock at energy-packed humans who act as if they had rockets in their pockets.

They need no scientific encouragement to make them go scudding over field and fern. They were born that way. They are like the buzz-bombs loosed on Britain in World War II by an energy-packed fellow named Hitler. No one could be sure where the buzz-bombs would land, because they were principally valuable as weapons of terror. They made a lot of noise and stirred up a lot of excitement — and they mained and killed a lot of people. They were a smashing triumph of the hit-and-miss-motion cult in modern civilization.

A future in which every crazy loon who has gone motion-happy can stick a buzz-bomb in his hip pocket is enough to make some of us want to propel ourselves as rapidly as possible away from here.

Target Practice

By BILL VAUGHAN

Variations on the "Have tux, will travel" line bob up more and more in conversations and the tempting response is, "Well, start traveling."

A physical education authority reports: "The difference in running speeds between boys and girls is negligible until the seventh grade." And it doesn't really make a great deal of difference for a few years after that.

Daily Bible Thought

"Let us be glad and rejoice." Rev. 19:7. The Bible mentions several hundred reasons for us to rejoice, but it comes very far from exhausting all the reasons we have to rejoice. A blocked blood vessel of the eye partly impaired our vision for a short time but we have enjoyed good vision for more than 80 years, but never thought to rejoice on that account.

Matter of Judgment

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

The best that can be said for Sherman Adams, the President's No. 1 assistant, is that his judgment was bad. Some Republicans want him thrown out. Democrats will use him as a campaign issue in the 1958 elections.

Any man in public office, like Adams, must decide about accepting gifts or favors from an individual whose interests may conflict with the public interest. Adams accepted.

From what followed Adams left himself open to suspicion of using his influence to repay the gifts or favors, although no one knows better than Adams that the men around a president can ill afford to be in that position.

IT WAS THIS same highly moralistic New Englander who helped heap suspicion on the men around President Truman in the 1952 campaign when the main Republican theme was "Throw the rascals out."

Many men who feel they have a public trust have a simple rule of life or yardstick which, if employed by Adams, might have saved him from his present embarrassment.

It's this: never accept a gift or favor if it can remotely affect your private conscience or the public interest or even give an impression of doing so. Some members of Congress feel that way. So do some newspapermen. Here's an example:

TAKE NEWSPAPERMAN Smith. If Jones, a public relations man, gave him an expensive gift and then came around later with a story, Smith would be confronted with this problem:

If he used the story, he might ever afterwards feel he had been influenced to do so, even though only subconsciously, by a sense of gratitude for the gift; if he threw the story away, to avoid such a feeling, he might be unfair to Jones.

So, such a newsman would reason, he never should let himself be in a position of having to worry about judging a story on anything except its merits.

Adams took free hotel accommodations, amounting to $2,000, from a man he called an old family friend: Bernard Goldfine, a Boston businessman. The White House has neither confirmed nor denied reports that Adams also accepted a $700 vicuna coat and a $2,400 rug.

ON GOLDFINE'S behalf Adams made inquiries at two government agencies — the Federal Trade Commission and the Securities and Exchange Commission—with whom Goldfine was having trouble, and arranged for an interview with the FTC chairman.

Adams denies any insinuations he used his influence—and he has tremendous influence in the government—with the two agencies to benefit Goldfine. But the fact that Adams, President Eisenhower's No. 1. man, even inquired about Goldfine's troubles raises a question:

What is influence? Would the commissioners consider such an inquiry from Adams pressure for Goldfine or a simple, routine query? The commissioners depend on the White House for their jobs, since it's the President who appoints them.

THEY KNOW ADAMS doesn't inquire about every businessman in trouble. It seems pretty certain comparatively few businessmen in trouble ever can get within a mile of Adams, much less get him interested in their case.

This is not the first time Adams has figured in the news for going to a government agency for some special group or individual. Yet, because of his job as assistant to the President, he enjoys a sanctuary most citizens don't have.

No congressional investigating committee can force him to appear and answer questions about his conduct. He takes the position he can't be compelled to testify about the affairs of the executive branch of the government.

But Adams wouldn't even face newsmen to answer their questions. He let his side of the case—and it's not clear that it's all been revealed yet—be stated through a public letter and President Eisenhower's press secretary.

Soviets Need U.S. Knowhow

Red Spies Still Infiltrate U.S. Industrial Complex

By VICTOR RIESEL

There are at least 15 U.S. citizens living uneasily in our land because, until five years ago, they were major Soviet spies. Had the Rosenbergs, executed on the night of June 19, 1953, broken their silence and faith in Russia, our government would have had sufficient evidence to send the 15 others to the electric chair for wartime espionage against us. I report this now, not because it is almost five years to the day since the government was forced to kill two people guilty of violating the laws of treason with which any civilized land must protect itself.

VICTOR RIESEL

Rather, this is reported at this time because a well - meaning American millionaire, as did another like him, is planning a mission to Moscow. Late this fall, Cyrus Eaton, the Joseph E. Davies of today, will see Nikita Khrushchev, just as Davies saw Stalin.

Then Mr. Eaton will return to the States to organize American industrialists into a group which will deal in and sell heavy industry tonnage and sympathy to the Russians.

The Soviets are in desperate need of our factory products despite their overweight Sputniks and their overworked boasts that they are ahead of us in science and production techniques.

THEY ARE NOT, though their spies have stolen — and are still stealing—our major military and industrial secrets. True, we've killed two of those agents and forced the Russians to replace the other 15 whom we can't touch with the coroborative evidence needed to stand up in court. But those spy rings, directed by Soviet and satellite embassies and officials, are in high gear today.

Our government knows this—yet Mr. Eaton is disturbed because we "snoop" to track down whatever evidence there is. It was this kind of "snooping" which, for example, told our FBI agents why a short husky man was standing on a bleak New York street corner in January 1944, carrying gloves and a green book when a lean, dour man carrying a tennis ball walked up and said, "hello." That was the first meeting of spy courier Harry Gold and scientist Klaus Fuchs. We lost some of our atomic secrets as an aftermath of that first meeting.

ESPIONAGE is not all cloak-and-dagger stuff. Friends of the man with the tennis ball needed only to learn later that a Dane by the name of Nicholas Baker, working at the Los Alamos atomic grounds was really Neils Bohr and the Soviet agents knew exactly what to tell the Russians. Bohr was a world - famed nuclear scientist.

We lost those rounds to the Russians. When some of our FBI agents ran this ring down, gathered all the information into several dossiers and then approached the U. S. military with their knowledge, our brass nearly dropped dead.

They thought they had it all really super-secret. But the Russians had it — even before our military got a chance to analyze their own findings.

But the Russians weren't interested only in military stuff. They spread their spies into every important installation as we built them.

-:-

THEY MOVED into every vital factory, seeking our newest industrial secrets on items running from disinfectants, the uses of lanolin, special soaps, commercial solvents and carbon dioxide recovery processes to new processes for manufacturing ethyl-alcohol, synthetic rubber, plastics, special fuels, rocketry and, of course, electronic equipment.

There is much evidence to prove that they had units in the U.S. Departments of Labor, Commerce, Agriculture, War and Navy.

Fact is that Harry Gold, the man with the gloves and green book waiting for the man with the tennis ball, started his work for the Soviets as an industrial spy in 1937.

Then the Russians put him through a college so he could be better equipped to steal factory secrets. Later he was shifted to atomic espionage. But the industrial spy rings are stiff operating —as you will hear from time to time.

They are in the production complexes owned by some of the 100 top industrialists to whom Cyrus Eaton has just written special letters urging them to force the U.S. to take a more conciliatory role towards the Soviet Union.

Now let's ask the Soviet Union to get their spies out of the 100 biggest U.S. corporations. That would help make friends.

'Revolution by Consent' Under Way in India, Writer Observes

By W. G. ROGERS
Associated Press Book Critic

INDIA CHANGES. By Taya Zinkin. Oxford. $5.

The great people of India are carrying through a revolution uniquely their own, says Mrs. Zinkin. She defines it as "revolution by consent," or the process of being persuaded by the government to do what they want to do. It is Socialist, with equality central to it; there may be democracy in it, but she does not see much Communist threat.

These are the conclusions of this Manchester Guardian correspondent. But much more absorbing, to me, is the body of her book, the picturesque route she followed to her findings.

A first-rate reporter, she goes behind the forms and empty appearances to life itself, the life in the 558,089 villages, the closely knit but loving family group, the real influence of woman despite her seemingly minor position, the significance of marriage customs, ritual as against actual cleanliness and the gradual relaxation of caste lines.

Mrs. Zinkin can make us visualize her story with apt comparisons: Caste likened to our labor union, for instance, and Buddhism related to Hinduism as Protestantism was to Catholicism in their revolutionary origin. But she can write on her own with gripping vividness, as in the picture of Vinoba Bhave and her account of the tastes, smells, looks and filth that marked a village feast.

They said the driver of the vehicle, a 16-year-old youth of near Galion, was held pending further investigation and was to be turned over to Galion police today.

Patrolmen said the driver attempted a left turn onto the county road from Rt. 30-S when the car went out of control, knocked down a road marker and traveled several feet through the yard of Alfred Garverick of Iberia.

According to the report, the auto was considerably damaged.

"FROSTY FESTIVAL."

The banana peel is said to be a food by-product that brings the weight down.

Mules like bananas so well that, when carrying bunches from plantations to railroad sidings, nose baskets often are necessary to prevent the animals from mutilating the fruit.

Bananas are at their eating best when they have speckled brown on the skins. The starch in the green fruit changes to sugar in the ripening process.

Treat your company to a real he-man banana split. You can use your imagination as to ingredients. It's filling, healthful, and satisfying.

Our store is stocked with all the varieties of ice cream for the National Ice-cream Festival. Nearly everyone likes ice cream . . . good season for strawberry shortcake.

New brides should try this recipe found in the "Virginia Housewife" published in 1824. It starts like this: "To make soup of any kind of fowl (the only way they are eatable,) put the fowls in a coup and feed them moderately for a fortnight."

Many of my customers would consider this a "fowl" recipe. Our industry is doing many things to help the modern housewife in her daily chores. Two Kentucky Women Hurt In Collision of Auto and Truck

DELAWARE — Two Martin, Ky., women were treated at Jane Case Hospital for injuries received in one of two weekend accidents, state patrolment of the Delaware post reported today.

Officers said the women, riding in a northbound auto on Rt. 23, were thrown out of the car in a collision with a dump truck two miles south of here at 11:15 a.m. Saturday.

According to the report, the northbound car driven by Jackie D. Samons of Martin, Ky., changed from the right lane to the left lane of dual traffic, striking the side of the dump truck driven by Henry F. Schmehl of Powell, traveling in the inside lane.

The injured women were Lenora Samons and Geneva Samons. They were treated at the hospital for contusions and abrasions of the face and arms. They were taken there by a Doty ambulance.

Samons was charged with failure to signal changing lanes and will appear in Delaware Municipal Court at a later date.

A Marysville area woman was injured in a mishap two and one-half miles northeast of Plain City on Rt. 42 Saturday at 8:40 p.m. patrolmen said.

The accident occurred when a southbound auto driven by Frank Smith, 51, of near Lebanon went left of center and struck a northbound vehicle driven by Mack Williams, 36, of near Marysville, patrolmen said.

Edith Williams, a passenger in the Williams car, was treated for possible back and arm injuries by a Plain City physician. Smith was charged with driving left of center. Moderate damage was done to both vehicles, according to the report.

Marion Man Will Face Charge of Petty Larceny

Police were called to the store by Darrell Caldwell, manager, who said he saw Williams stuff some food valued at $5.83 inside his shirt and walk out without paying for it. Police filed the intoxication charge against Williams and Mr. Caldwell signed the petty larceny affidavit. Williams was to appear in Municipal Court today.

Unicycle Answers Student's Problem

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — A Michigan State University student has a unique solution to the problem of getting from class to class on the sprawling MSU campus.

Bob Johnson, a senior from Clawson, Mich., discovered his ability to balance a unicycle is a step-saver. What's more, Johnson says, a unicycle is the only means of transportation not under regulation. Although students are not permitted to ride bicycles on the sidewalks, he claims no law prohibits his one-wheeler.

John says steering is all with the hips. He rides with hands free to carry books. "And I haven't hit anyone yet," he says.

Bicycle Rider Enjoys Lengthy Trip to Work

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — El Estes, 43, isn't worried about the problem of keeping up two automobiles. He leaves the family car with his wife and rides a bicycle 10 miles to work every day — and thinks the 20 miles of pedaling is good exercise. Estes, YMCA membership secretary, says he also enjoys the scenery more than when riding in the car.

Administration Backers Press Attack on Senate Labor Bill

PAY TRIBUTE TO FR. SPICKERMAN. This is part of the crowd of approximately 400 persons who attended the testimonial dinner in honor of the Very Rev. William J. Spickerman's 50 years in the ministry Sunday night in the UAW Union Hall on Leader St. In the background are the tables reserved for the speakers and members of the clergy who were special guests. The event was a climax to "Father Spickerman Week" in Marion. He has been pastor of St. Mary Church here for 30 years.

Johnson Set For Move To Limit Debate

Opponents Schedule Last-Ditch Attempts To Stiffen Measure

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senators dissatisfied with a bill to curb labor abuses pushed ahead today with last-ditch efforts to reshape it more to their liking.

As a wrangling Senate headed into a fourth day of debate on the measure, Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas said he hoped to finish action on it tonight under an agreement limiting debate.

But a sheaf of amendments remains to be disposed of, many of them highly controversial.

Potter Amendment Offered

Awaiting action first was an amendment by Sen. Charles E. Potter (R-Mich) to let union members recover any dues money used for political purposes or other non-union activities they oppose.

"It's a violation of a worker's rights to appropriate hard-earned dues money for political slush funds," Potter said in arguing for his amendment. Sens. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz) and Carl T. Curtis (R-Neb) agreed.

However, Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore) said Potter's amendment is "as absurd and as completely without justification" as any yet offered.

Morse denounced it as "a union-busting amendment" and said it would "play into the hands of the type of employer who employs the stooge and spy."

Basic Provisions Intact

Despite all the argument that has swirled about the bill, its basic provisions remain intact.

It is designed to help drive racketeers out of the labor movement and to give rank and file members more control over union affairs.

It also would make a number of changes in the 1947 Taft-Hartley Labor Relations Act, including some long sought by labor leaders.

While a number of revisions have been made to meet criticisms of Secretary of Labor Mitchell, every major amendment offered by spokesmen for the Eisenhower administration has gone down in defeat.

Rev. Siemsen Is Installed as Church Pastor

The Rev. Alvin Siemsen was installed as the new pastor at the First United Church of Christ Sunday. The service was conducted at a special worship hour in the evening with the Rev. L. Harrison Ludwig of Salem United Church of Christ in charge.

The Rev. Mr. Siemsen assumed his duties here May 15 after a 13-year pastorate at Saline, Mich.

Giving the sermon for the services was the Rev. Leo Keil, pastor of Trinity United Church of Christ at Wooster. His subject was "In Perfect Harmony." A son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Keil of 1065 Mt. Vernon Ave., the occasion marked the Rev. Mr. Keil's return to the church in which he was confirmed and received incentive to enter the Christian ministry.

Also assisting was the Rev. Robert Diller, superintendent of the denomination's home for the aged at Upper Sandusky. Special music was under the direction of Mrs. Edward Miller, organist and choir director for the church. She gave several organ numbers, Warren Augenstein sang "Great Is the Lord," Cartwright, and the choir presented "Be Thou Exalted, O God," Williams.

Adams Hearing

(D-Ark) received today's testimony. White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty told a news conference he had no information that Goldfine had ever offered President Eisenhower a suit of clothes.

The question came up when reporter Sarah McLendon said her newspaper has information that Goldfine likes to make gifts of clothes to his friends.

Miss McLendon said the Manchester (N.H.) Union Leader also understands that Goldfine has given suits to some members of the White House staff and probably offered one to Eisenhower.

"I have no knowledge of that," Hagerty replied.

When he declined further comment, a reporter asked whether Hagerty cared to clear up the matter at least in the case of Eisenhower.

Referring to Miss McLendon's suggestion that some White House staff members got suits, and without mentioning Eisenhower, Hagerty said: "I can only speak for myself, and my answer is no."

Responding to other questions, Hagerty said Eisenhower and Adams conferred several times during the morning. He said one of the sessions dealt with White House business but did not provide any detail.

Hagerty said Eisenhower expects to hold a news conference sometime Wednesday.

The House subcommittee inquiring into the Adams - Goldfine relationship also brought out records showing that Goldfine picked up a tab of $262.29 last year for Adams and Mrs. Adams at the Mayflower Hotel in Plymouth, Mass.

This has previously been acknowledged by Adams, though he did not name the figure.

Acting FTC Chairman Robert T. Secrest, later took the witness stand and said: "At the outset of my remarks, I want to assure this committee that Mr. Sherman Adams has never contacted me, directly or indirectly, with respect to any matter, formal or informal, under investigation by or in trial before the Federal Trade Commission.

Contacted by None on Staff

"No person on the White House staff has ever contacted me, directly or indirectly, with respect to any such matters.

"I am authorized to make this same statement with respect to the other four members of our commission, three of whom are present at this hearing."

It was while Edward F. Howrey was chairman that Goldfine's cases developed before the FTC.

Adams has said he called FTC officials for information on Goldfine's trouble but denied taking Goldfine's part.

Howrey has said that the FTC treated Goldfine no differently from anyone else, in a perfectly routine way.

Adams has said he was under the impression Goldfine kept permanent rooms at a Boston hotel where Goldfine paid the bills.

Harris had promised to "develop all the facts we can" as a major political storm mounted around Adams. He summoned present and former heads of the Federal Trade Commission to determine whether the agency gave special treatment to Goldfine, Boston industrialist and old friend of Adams.

After an opening statement saying the subcommittee was going to push its probe "without fear or favor," Harris called McLaughlin to the stand in a surprise move.

McLaughlin produced photographic copies of Waldorf-Astoria records which he said were obtained through a subpoena served last Friday.

McLaughlin said a Goldfine bill for Jan. 21-26, 1954, had totaled $514.75, including $47.40 which had been transferred from Adams' account. Then for Feb. 12-15, McLaughlin said, Goldfine had paid a $2,982.29 bill which included $219.65 for Adams and Mrs. Adams.

McLaughlin testified that FTC records showed a complaint against textile manufacturer Goldfine's Northfield Mills had been settled by FTC about the time of Adams' visits to the Waldorf-Astoria.

The investigator said that on Jan. 19, 1954, two days before the first visit, Northfield Mills submitted to FTC a general statement "In which it gave assurances that it would no longer mislabel certain materials."

Recommends Closing Case

On Feb. 5, McLaughlin went on, an FTC memorandum includes a recommendation that the matter of the company's alleged failure to disclose a small percentage of nylon in certain fabrics be considered closed, and it subsequently was closed on that basis.

Asked whether Goldfine had maintained a suite at the Waldorf-Astoria on a permanent basis, McLaughlin replied, "No, sir."

In connection with his stops at the Sheraton-Plaza Hotel in Boston, Adams said in a letter to Harris last week he understood when he accepted Goldfine's hospitality that the manufacturer maintained a suite there on a permanent basis.

Adams has acknowledged that he frequently stayed in an expensive Boston hotel suite for which Goldfine paid. He also has said he made two contacts with FTC officials on Goldfine's behalf. But President Eisenhower's top aide has branded as "unwarranted and unfair" what he called insinuations by Harris' subcommittee that he swung federal favors for Goldfine.

Both Attacked and Defended

Adams was both attacked and defended by prominent Americans over the weekend. One of his staunchest supporters was his wife. Another was former FTC Chairman Edward F. Howrey, who testified today.

Howrey, who headed the FTC when Goldfine had trouble with the agency, said FTC "Certainly treated him (Goldfine) no differently from anyone else and it was handled in a perfectly routine way."

Mrs. Adams took congressional Democrats to task for the ordeal she said is being visited on her husband. They are "just going to hound him until he has to leave," she said in a copyrighted interview in the Minneapolis Tribune and Des Moines Register.

Friendly Relationship

Mrs. Adams acknowledged her family received many gifts from the Goldfines over the years, but pictured this a part of a friendly relationship between the two families.

But Senate Republican Leader William F. Knowland (Calif), running for the California governorship this year, led an imposing array of politicians speaking critically of Adams — especially his silence as to whether he received expensive gifts from Goldfine as well as the hotel rooms.

Knowland said the facts in the Adams case "should be completely disclosed, otherwise the responsibility he has with the President would be seriously undermined."

The Rev. Fr. O'Brian, a humorist, read letters of congratulations to the Rev. Fr. Spickerman from Gov. C. William O'Neill, Ohio Sen. John Bricker and several members of the clergy. He also introduced Mayor Strong, who paid tribute to the Rev. Fr. Spickerman's service to the St. Mary parish and to the city.

Henry Krigbaum and Charles Cupani presented the Rev. Fr. Spickerman with a check for $5,000 and a gold pen and pencil set, gifts from the parish. Mr. Krigbaum noted that the check represented $100 for each of the Rev. Fr. Spickerman's 50 years in the ministry.

—:—

ALSO INTRODUCED was Anthony D'Amato, general chairman in charge of the week's activities, who in turn recognized his co-chairmen and the members of the several committees. The toastmaster was introduced by Thomas E. Andrews.

The Rev. Fr. Spickerman spoke briefly of his life as a priest, relating some of the amusing, as well as some of the serious experiences in his half-century of service to God. He said he was nothing short of "overwhelmed" by the week's activities in his honor and the size of the purse given him.

Preceding the testimonial dinner, a solemn sacerdotal high mass was given in the Marion Catholic High School, with the Rev. Fr. Spickerman the celebrant. Presiding was Bishop Issenmann. An open house in the new Catholic school was held in the St. Mary pastor's honor Saturday night.

The week's activities concluded Sunday night with a reception for some 70 clergymen from the diocese in the St. Mary rectory.

Giving the invocation for the dinner was Bishop Issenmann. The closing blessing was by the Rev. J. E. Bartel of Cincinnati, a classmate of Fr. Spickerman.

Moscow

Menshikov was summoned home on what the official called a "temporary official mission." The embassy aide said Menshikov is expected to return to Washington within a few days—"a couple of weeks at the outside." The official said he could not give the precise reason for the call home.

Mrs. Menshikov was said to have remained here while her husband made the trip to Moscow —his first since taking over as ambassador to the United States last Feb. 6.

Embassy officials said the State Department and other embassies in Washington were informed that Menshikov was returning briefly.

However, the first public word that Menshikov had left Washington came when Scandinavian Airlines sent New York newspapers and press associations pictures of the Soviet envoy boarding a plane at New York International Airport.

First Tropical Typhoon Dies Over River Valley

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Alma, the timid typhoon, rippled to her demise in the lower Rio Grande Valley areas of Texas and Mexico today.

The tropical storm, first of the hurricane season, did not pack the punch of storms striking the Gulf of Mexico area in previous years.

One death was blamed on high waves churned up by the storm. The victim was A. B. Wilson, 29, of Houston. He drowned Sunday while swimming off Galveston Beach.

No damage was reported after Alma whipped in from the Gulf and smashed into Mexico just south of the Rio Grande with winds up to 50 miles an hour.

All contracts expired last midnight. The Engineers' contract with the tankers runs until next year.

The Engineers negotiations broke down over four major items, the union said. They were:

Increases in retirement pensions from $100 to $250 a month; increases in paid vacations, "substantial" wage increases and a clause providing that if an operator sells or transfers his ship the MEBA contract must follow the ship or the operator must pay one year's severance pay.

Engineers pay ranges from $493 a month for junior engineers to $1,052 for chief engineers.

Lastrapes Says Clinic Contract Not Modified

Dr. Thomas S. Lastrapes, defendant in an injunction suit filed by the Frederick C. Smith Clinic, said today The Star was incorrect in reporting in Saturday's edition that he had testified he had signed agreements with the clinic "modifying the original contract" with the clinic.

Dr. Lastrapes said the agreements referred to were directives sent from the clinic to the clinic's accountants calling for them to make deductions from the salaries of Drs. Lastrapes, Philip W. Smith and Frederick G. Smith. He contends that they do not modify his original contract, and the contract itself was invalidated by a partnership change at the clinic in 1955.

Attorneys for the clinic, however, contend that his signing of the agreements had the effect of continuing his original contract under a different partnership.

The clinic charges that Dr. Lastrapes violated the contract by engaging in practice here within four years after leaving the clinic staff. The clinic is seeking a permanent injunction to enjoin Dr. Lastrapes from Marion County practice for four years dating from Jan. 1, 1957.

Back Up Secretary

Trustees of OIC Support Milligan in SUB Dispute

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Trustees of the Ohio Information Committee (OIC) today backed up their executive secretary in a dispute over supplemental unemployment benefits (SUB).

A statement signed by seven trustees said in part:

"We maintain private contracts (SUB) must comply with the law of the state of Ohio. We are opposing the attempts of the CIO, and its captive employers, to force the state of Ohio to change its law to comply with their private contracts."

Gov. C. William O'Neill blamed Atty. Fred J. Milligan, OIC executive secretary, for delaying a state Supreme Court decision on SUB. The statement of the trustees put their approval on Milligan's previous statements.

The OIC provided counsel for intervenors in a SUB test case before the high court. The court refused to cut the usual 40-day period for filing briefs although original parties in the case agreed to a speedy hearing.

The suit involves the question of whether jobless workers can receive SUB and state unemployment benefits at the same time.

Lower courts said they could but the state appealed to the Supreme Court for a final decision.

Trustees signing the statement were J. C. Shouvlin, president of Bauer Bros. Co. of Springfield; C. A. Corbett, treasurer of Salem China Co. of Salem; John H. Dunlap Jr., farm management, Williamsport; G. E. O'Brien, executive secretary, Ohio Grain & Feed Dealers Assn., Greenville; W. Frank Morris, president of C. E. Morris Co., Columbus, Dean Phillips, director of personnel and public relations at North American Aviation Inc., at Columbus and Milligan.

Governmental Units Receive Budget Forms

County Auditor Maurice C. Clements said today he has mailed out budget forms to all governmental subdivisions in preparation for the massive job of determining how much each will get under county appropriations next January.

The forms are to be completed and returned to the auditor no later than July 20. He then forwards them to the budget commission for approval. The budget commission, made up of Prosecutor Robert O. Stout and County Treasurer Marion E. Hinklin, must complete any revisions in the budgets before Sept. 1 unless the time is extended by the board of tax appeals.

Mr. Clements said each subdivision lists actual income and expenditures for 1956, 1957 and for the first half of 1958. Income and expenses are estimated for the second half of 1958 and for 1959.

The auditor said he will send out forms Jan. 1 on which each subdivision will list actual balances for 1958. These forms will be used in figuring the appropriations, he said.

UAW Reopens Talks On Contract Deadlock

DETROIT (AP)—Contract talks were back on tap in the auto industry today but without any sign which way they might be going.

Ford and General Motors were due to meet with the United Auto Workers today. Chrysler talks resume Tuesday.

This is the start of the third no-contract week since expiration of the UAW agreements with the Big Three and the impasse seems still unyielding.

None of the principals has given a hint of progress.

The UAW has gone ahead with the formality of strike votes among its locals at General Motors Ford and Chrysler. The union says so far the vote has been 10-1 in favor of a strike at GM.

Council Called To Meeting on Pool Program

A special meeting of Marion City Council to consider appropriation of funds for the renovation of the Lincoln Park swimming pool will be held at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in City Hall.

The meeting was called by the special swimming pool committee composed of John Robbins (D-1st), Mrs. Norma Jacob (D-5th) and Ralph Williams (R-4th).

Apparent low bids for the renovation project total $60,912 and council previously made provisions for spending $65,000 on the project. In addition to the cost of the construction work, architect's fees are to be paid from the $65,000.

Ten bids were received for construction of new concrete walls inside the old pool. The apparent low bidder on this part of the work was J. W. Weaver of 605 Forest Lawn Dr. who bid $29,368.

Of the seven bids for the electrical work, Triple Service Co. of 140 W. Pleasant St. submitted the apparent low bid of $3,747.

There were five bidders on the plumbing work and the apparent low bidder was J. F. Dible of Carey. His bid was $27,797.

Stevenson Tells British He's Not Running in '60

LONDON (AP) — Adlai Stevenson told the British today he will not be running as Democratic candidate for the U.S. presidency in 1960.

But he is not being shipped off quietly to Siberia, Stevenson quipped. He is going to the remote Soviet region on a business trip, he told newsmen—"but not for keeps."

"I have not been, I am not, and I will not be nominated as Democratic presidential candidate," he said.

He said he was on his way to the Soviet Union to try to collect royalties for American authors.

Election Drive Plans Drafted By Knowland

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP) — Sen. William F. Knowland is not going to retreat on his labor stand. But he is going to open up on his front - running Democratic opponent for governor, Atty. Gen. Edmund G. Brown.

That much was clear after the Republican senator paid a flying visit to a conference of some 200 of his campaign supporters Sunday.

Knowland returned to Washington with no indication of any major shakeup in his campaign command as the result of his ailing vote in the recent state primary.

Nor was there a hint of any new strategy to woo support from among the Democrats' million-vote majority.

Knowland, however, responded to pleas of his backers to take off his gloves against Brown. He declared he intends to challenge Brown's fitness for the governorship on the basis of his performance as attorney general.

Ignoring advice to go easy on his labor program and other controversial issues, Knowland declared he intends to stick by his principle even if it means losing the governorship.

He gave notice he would discuss whether Brown, as the state's chief law enforcement office, has fully carried out his duties.

He pointed a rise in crime in California and charged laxity on Brown's part in connection with narcotics enforcement — a bureau under the attorney general that was recently overhauled.

U.S. Puts Damper On Courtesy Trip Of Soviet Jetliner

VANCOUVER, B.C. (AP)—The possibility of interception by U.S. Air Force jet fighters Sunday put a damper on a courtesy flight by the Soviet Union's TU104 jet airliner on exhibition here.

The plane, biggest attraction at the Centennial Air Show, was scheduled to fly 75 miles from Sea Island Airport to Victoria, the British Columbia capital on Vancouver Island.

It flew instead in the Greater Vancouver area after Royal Canadian Air Force officials said they had been unable to gain assurances from the U. S. Air Force that the Soviet aircraft would not be challenged by U. S. fighters should it cross the international boundary.

On the flight originally scheduled for the TU104, a slight drift could have taken the aircraft over the U. S. island of San Juan, which juts into Canadian waters in the Straits of Georgia.

Contracts for Two Street Projects Let

Contracts for street improvements on Reed Ave. and Uhler Rd. have been awarded to Thomas J. Hug of Norwalk, Safety-Service Director Howard W. Traxis reported today.

Mr. Hug submitted the apparent low bids on the two projects, bidding $10,183 for the Uhler Rd. work and $8,824 on the Reed Ave. project.

Mr. Travis also said today that the bids received on the Underwood Ave. improvement project all were rejected because of irregularities and new bids will be opened on June 26. The apparent low bidder on the first alternate for the Underwood Ave. project was Mr. Hug. This called for surfacing the street with blacktop over a concrete base and the bid was $35,317. Low bidder on the second alternate of surfacing the st[illegible] with seven inches of concrete was George Scantland of 485 Roberts Ave. He bid $24,873.

Returns to Act

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Determined Betty Pasco returned to her trapeze act at Pontchartrain Beach Sunday night despite a 40-foot fall the night before.

The pretty blonde aerialist fell when her foot slipped from a harness as she attempted a one-foot hang. Her husband, who was standing below, managed to catch her and break the fall. She suffered a bruised shoulder.

Mrs. Pasco didn't attempt the one-foot hang Sunday night.

U.S. motor vehicles fatalities in the first quarter of 1958 resulted in 11,000 life insurance death claims for an aggregate of 28 million dollars.

Dispute Arises Over Editing

Interview With Lodge Is Canceled by TV Network

NEW YORK (AP)—The American Broadcasting Co. Sunday night canceled a filmed interview with U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge.

The ambassador, said the network, had insisted upon editing certain portions of the interview. ABC said that to have permitted the deletions would have constituted editorial censorship in violation of company policy.

Dr. Robert Hutchins, president of the Fund for the Republic, took issue with ABC and defended Lodge. The interview was to be part of a current series on the program Mike Wallace Interview. The series is produced jointly by the fund and Newsmakers Productions.

Hutchins said in a prepared statement: "In refusing to allow an official of a television network to determine what statements of his should be broadcast, Ambassador Lodge is perfectly within his rights."

The fund president said previous programs in the series were revised with the network's approval.

A spokesman for the U. S. delegation at the United Nations said Lodge would have no comment.

John Daly, ABC vice president for news and public affairs, said Newsmakers Productions had guaranteed Lodge the right to edit the interview.

Although this was contrary to ABC policy, Daly said, ABC agreed "that the interview content could be reviewed in the light of events as of the day of the telecast."

Daly said ABC agreed with Lodge on one deletion but could not agree with the ambassador that other changes involved "national security and the public interest."

It was not disclosed which phrases Lodge objected to.

2 Elephants Killed

NEW YORK (AP) — Two old ladies were shot to death Sunday night at the Prospect Park Zoo in Brooklyn. They were Astra and Judy, aged elephants.

Judy, 48, was killed because she was old, toothless and could not eat. Astra, 32, came to the end of her trail because of her bad temper. She had badly injured two men with her trunk.

INTENDED KIDNAP VICTIM. Actress Kathy Grant, wife of Bing Crosby, intended victim of a kidnap plot, receives visitors in her hotel room in Reno, Nev., after staying in the room all day when she was informed of it. Wilburn E. Davison, 48, told sheriff's officers and newsmen in Los Angeles that he and a partner planned to abduct Bing's wife and hold her for $100,000 ransom. The plot was revealed by Davison's niece, an Oklahoma farm girl. (UPI Telephoto)

Mrs. Bing Crosby Unruffled Over $100,000 Extortion Plot

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Bing Crosby's wife is back in town apparently unconcerned about all the fuss over a gaunt ex-convict's plot to kidnap her for $100,000 ransom.

"I haven't told Bing—he's salmon fishing off Alaska," said Mrs. Crosby, who arrived Sunday night from judging a beauty contest at Reno, Nev.

"But even if I could reach him," she added, "what is there to tell him?"

Meanwhile, the sheriff's office said Wilburn E. Davison, 48, who admits hatching the plot with a partner, probably won't be prosecuted. Davison said he abandoned the plan when he learned Mrs. Crosby was pregnant.

"Davison probably is going to get life anyway because he has admitted his part in four robberies and two kidnapings with intent to commit robbery," said Detective Sgt. Jack Morris.

The plot to kidnap Mrs. Crosby was revealed Saturday by Davison's niece Nicki Snow, 19. She told authorities in Seminole County, Okla., that Davison and Eugene Kling, tried to get her to help them.

Davison was arrested May 30 shortly after a suburban Lakewood supermarket was robbed of $25,000. Kling, 40, got away in another car, officers said, with $23,000 of the loot.

Miss Snow said Davison wanted her to stay with Mrs. Crosby while the attractive brunette actress was a captive. Miss Snow said she told her uncle she wanted no part of the proposed crime.

Tribe Gets Power, Held in 5-Player Deal With A's

Kansas City Gets Ward, Maris and Dick Tomanek

CLEVELAND (AP)—Cleveland's 1958 edition of "new faces" opens a 14-game home stand Tuesday night against the New York Yankees.

The Indians closed an 18-day road tour with a flourish, sweeping four games from the Washington Senators, including Sunday's doubleheader, 5-3 and 4-2. It brought their record on the extended trip up to a respectable nine victories in 19 decisions. Before the Washington series, the trip seemed a complete failure.

In addition to strengthening their hold on fourth place, the Indians also bring home three new players acquired from Kansas City. Gone are four former Tribesmen.

One of the new players is shortstop Billy Hunter, who appears to have tightened the infield with his fielding in the past four games. He was exchanged for Chico Carrasquel last Thursday.

Five Players Involved

Sunday, General Manager Frank Lane, who seems unhappy unless he's wheeling and dealing players, swapped outfielder Roger Maris, infielder Preston Ward and southpaw pitcher Dick Tomanek, for Vic Power, Kansas City's slugging first baseman, and outfielder Woody Held.

Since Lane arrived on the Cleveland scene last November, only 12 of the 25 men then on the Tribe roster still are around. The rest are new faces.

Mickey Vernon, who now seems headed for pinch-hitting chores with the acquisition of Power, carried a hot bat in Sunday's first game triumph. He cracked a home run, double and single. In the nightcap he collected another two hits and raised his batting average to .365.

Gary Bell posted his second straight major league victory in the opener, though he needed aid from Don Mossi and Hoyt Wilhelm, after hurling five scoreless innings.

Jim (Mudcat) Grant, relegated to bullpen duty after failing as a starter in his last several games, won the nightcap with four hitless innings in relief of starter Jim Constable. Wilhelm, the ace knuckleballer, once again closed it out with 2 2-3 innings of relief in which he yieleded but one hit and no runs.

Indians Move Ahead

Cleveland went ahead 2-0 in the fifth inning of the first contest on Vernon's double, a triple by Russ Nixon and a good squeeze bunt by Billy Moran.

Bell was touched for a run in the sixth and Mossi came in and retired the side.

Meanwhile, the Indians added two more runs in the seventh and grabbed a 4-1 advantage. Vernon homered—his fifth of the season—after a single by Rocky Colavito. A triple by Ward and Colavito's single made it 5-1 jn the eighth.

Jim Lemon homered off Mossi in the ninth with one on.

The Indians' margin was cut to 2-1 in the Washington half of the first. A double by Vernon led to another run for Cleveland in the second, but the Senators got it

Baylor Given Job of Saving Lakers' Berth

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — All-America Elgin Baylor, signed by the Minneapolis Lakers for a reported $20,000, was handed the monumental job today of saving the franchise of a team that was once pro basketball's greatest.

It is the kind of assignment that may outreach any heroics the 6 foot 6 inch star performed for Seattle University, a school he is leaving with one year of eligibility left.

Laker President Robert Short was frank about it:

"If Baylor can't help us back on our feet we're finished. Nobody in the National Basketball Assn. wants us in the league. I'm not sure if some of our own board members do."

Baylor was the Lakers' No. 1 draft choice and therefore the league's because Minneapolis finished in last place last year — practically out of sight — and had first crack.

Baylor averaged 32.5 points a game last season in finishing behind Cincinnati's Oscar Robertson among big college scoring aces.

The first president to attend an opening day major league game was Howard Taft. He saw Washington beat Philadelphia in 1910 by 3-0. Walter Johnson pitched a one-hitter that day.

MOVING OUT. Infielder Preston Ward (left), outfielder Roger Maris (center) and pitcher Dick Tomanek, clean out their lockers after Cleveland's twin win Sunday. The three were traded to Kansas City before the deadline Sunday night. The Indians received Woody Held and Vic Power. (UPI Telephoto)

Country Club Pool Activities Being Rushed

Aquatic activities at the Marion Country Club pool will reach a full tempo this week with the beginning of group lessons for beginners and advanced swimmers.

The non-swimmer group will meet at 10 a.m. Tuesday with both YMCA and Red Cross programs being taught. Assisting pool manager Warren Foster will be Miss Marge Firstenberger, a senior at Ohio State, who is a member of the pool staff. Advanced swimmers seeking to improve their strokes and watermanship are urged to report on Thursday at 10 a.m. for classes in the YMCA progressive program. Members of the swimming team will assist with these groups.

Water ballet team members or anyone interested in synchronized swimming should report to Miss Firstenberger and Miss Pheobe Frew on Saturday at 11 a.m. Stunts will be featured in the first few sessions preparatory to learning routines.

Future plans at the club call for the formation of a water polo team under the direction of Jim Forsythe and a combined junior and senior YMCA lifesaving course by Mr. Foster.

The swimming team with close to 100 candidates is the most popular activity at the club and is entering the second week of practice prior to the opener against the Delaware Swim Club the last week in June. Early time trials were good with Bruce Kohler, Scott Pickerel, Joe Peacock, Bob Finney, Marilyn Altmaier, Candice Cox, Jane Hamilton, and Sharon Sloane turning in the best efforts, Coach Foster said.

Yesterday's Stars

Batting — Bob Cerv, Athletics, smashed his 17th home run, three triples and a pair of singles, and drove in five runs to boost his league leading total to 51 as Kansas City swamped the Boston Red Sox 17-6 and 9-4 in a doubleheader.

Pitching — Frank Lary and Jim Bunning, Tigers; Lary hurled a four-hitter and Bunning a five-hitter as Detroit shut out the New York Yankees 2-0 and 3-0 for a sweep of the four-game series in Yankee Stadium.

Weekend Fights

Hollywood, Calif. — Irish Tommy Bain, 128, Los Angeles, outpointed Eddie Gaspora, 129½, Los Angeles, 10.

Bologna, Italy — Willie Pastrano, 189, New Orleans outpointed Franco Cavicchi, 202, Italy, 10.

Local Team Sinks Bucyrus Nine 7-0

Ken Ellwowod hurled Wilson's Auctioneers to a four-hit 7-0 victory over Bucyrus Sunday in Mid-Ohio League play at the losers' diamond.

The Marion County hurler struck out 11 and gave up no walks. Miller went the distance for the Bucyrus nine. He also struck out 11 but was nicked for nine hits and his mates were charged with six errors.

The Wilson batters clinched the win with two runs in the third frame. Joe Ambrose singled and scored on a double by Sharrel Leffler. Leffler came home on a single by Francis Gruber. Three runs were added in the fifth. Ambrose opened with a triple and scored on a sacrifice fly by Howard Gruber. Francis Gruber, Bob Smiley and Jim Anspaugh all reached base on errors and Mervin Stover walked to drive in a run. The third run came on Bucyrus' fourth error of the inning. The winners added single runs in the eighth and ninth.

The Wilson team will meet the Marion American Legion nine Wednesday at 5 p.m. at the Harding High School diamond and next Saturday night will play Nevada at Lincoln Park in a makeup contest.

Reds Take 2 Victories From Cubs

By The Associated Press

Harvey Haddix pitched his best game of the year for Cincinnati Sunday as the Redlegs swept a doubleheader from Chicago 7-0 and 4-2.

The little left-hander permitted only seven hits in the opener in pitching the team's third shutout in a span of five games. The double triumph gave Birdie Tebbetts' crew 11 victories in the last 16 games. They are in third position, 3½ games behind the league leading Milwaukee Braves.

Braves Rally To Win

The Braves came from behind to defeat the St. Louis Cardinals 4-2 and retain their 1½ game advantage over the runner-up San Francisco Giants, who defeated Philadelphia 3-1. Three Pittsburgh home runs in one inning highlighted the Pirates' 12-1 rout of the Dodgers in Los Angeles.

Pete Whisenant paced the Redlegs' first game attack against the Cubs' Taylor Phillips, losing his first after four victories. Whisenant doubled home two runs in the seventh and hit a three-run homer in the ninth. Relievers Tom Acker and Johnny Klippstein halted several Cub threats in the second game after Cincinnati had scored two runs in each of the first two innings off loser Dick Drott.

Leads Late Uprising

Harry Hanebrink, a .169 hitting outfielder, smacked a two-run homer to feature a three-run ninth inning that earned the Braves their comeback victory over St. Louis. Reliever Don McMahon won his sixth against one defeat.

Al Worthington, making his first start since April 18, stopped the Phillies with eight hits as the Giants took the rubber game of the three-game series. The loser was Curt Simmons.

Empire, Baldauf Win Federal League Games

A pair of Federal League makeup games were played Saturday night with Empire clipping Whirlpool 2-1 at Maynard Field and last-place Baldauf edging Baker Wood 3-2.

Berridge went the distance for Empire and was the winning hurler. Thomas was charged with the defeat. Ferrin slapped a double for the winners.

Firestone was the winning pitcher for Baldauf and finished with 11 strikeouts. Metzger was the loser.

Klippstein, Bilko Leave

Cincinnati Trades Two for Newcombe

By The Associated Press

Cincinnati's fast-moving Redlegs have Don Newcombe and the American League has a "new look" today following a frenzied final day swapping spree shortly before the majors' midnight trading deadline.

Newcombe, pitching ace of the Dodgers for nearly a decade but a winless, 0-6 flop in seven starts as a transplanted Californian, went to the Redlegs in an eleventh hour deal that sent right-hander Johnny Klippstein, first baseman Steve Bilko and cash to Los Angeles.

In the only other National League trade, St. Louis sent shortstop Dick Schofield and cash to Pittsburgh for utility infielders Gene Freese and Johnny O'Brien.

By contrast, five of the eight American League clubs had a hand in the busy late-hour dealings.

Three major trades — involving Kansas City, Cleveland, New York, Detroit and Chicago — followed on the heels of an earlier deal between the Athletics and Indians.

The Indians, who have only 12 of their 25 players left since Frank Lane took over as the team's general manager last November, now have Vic Power (Kansas City) at first base; Billy Hunter (Kansas City), second; and Woody Held (Kansas City), center field.

The Yankees now have pitchers Duke Maas and Virgil Trucks (both formerly with Kansas City). Detroit obtained outfielder Tito Francona and pitcher Bill Fischer from Chicago for first baseman Ray Boone and pitcher Bob Shaw.

Tommy Bolt Wins Crown In U.S. Open

By The Associated Press

Tommy Bolt today wore the U.S. Open gold crown after beating off the challenges of some of America's greatest golfers in the weekend finale at Tulsa's Southern Hills Country Club.

The reformed Bolt finished with a 283 on rounds of 71, 71, 69 and 72 to edge out Gary Player of South Africa by four strokes.

Player had a 287 followed by Julius Boros at 289, Gene Littler at 290, Bob Rosburg and Walter Burkemo at 291. Ben Hogan playing with a painful left wrist finished 11 strokes off the pace with a 294.

Player, who had shot the only sub par score of the first two rounds, faded a bit on the third round, then came back to hold second place with a final 287. strong man.

Stranahan shot himself out of it with a seven on the last hole in the morning. Gene Littler made a run at Bolt with a third round 67 — the best of the tournament — but couldn't hold the pace. He wound up in fourth place at 290 while Julius Boros took third with a 289.

Ben Hogan's effort to win the Open for a fifth time again was frustrated, this time by a hand injury suffered in the first round. But his 10th place tie assured him of a chance to try again without qualifying.

Tigers Win Pair

Yanks Suffer First Double Shutout Since 1947 Chase

By The Associated Press

The suddenly snarling Detroit Tigers are the hottest team in the major leagues right now, but they continue to be the enigma of the baseball world.

How can one team be so futile under one manager and so ferocious under another? It's certainly not that Jack Tighe was a bad manager, or that Bill Norman, who succeeded Tighe a week ago, has been waving a magic wand.

Still, the figures are there. Under Tighe, the Tigers won 21 of 49 for a .429 percentage. With Norman, they've won six of seven, including a spectacular sweep of the four-game series from the New York Yankees in Yankee Stadium.

Lary, Bunning Nail Wins

Frank Lary and Jim Bunning did the pitching for Detroit Sunday as the Tigers shut out the American League leaders twice 2-0 and 3-0. Ossie Virgil, Harvey Kuenn and Gail Harris drove in the key runs in the first double shutout the Yankees have suffered in 11 years.

Kansas City smacked Boston down in a doubleheader 17-6 and 9-4. Cleveland took two from Washington 5-3 and 4-2 and Chicago shut out Baltimore twice 3-0 and 4-0.

Not since Philadelphia's Carl Scheib and Dick Fowler hurled back-to-back shutouts on May 30, 1947, have two pitchers been able to blank the Yankees twice in one afternoon. Don Larsen (5-1) and Bob Turley (10-2) were the victims.

Bob Cerv and Chico Carrasquel spearheaded the Athletics to their double triumph that moved them to within half a game of the Red Sox. Cerv, league leader in home runs and runs batted in, walloped his 17th homer, three triples and a pair of singles and drove in five runs to boost his RBI total to 41.

Carrasquel, obtained Thursday from Cleveland, had seven hits, five in the first game.

Power Extends Streak

Vic Power, traded to Cleveland after the twin bill, hit safely in each game to extend his batting streak to 22 straight games. Duke Maas, traded to the Yankees, went the distance in the nightcap.

The White Sox moved out of last place behind pitchers Jim Wilson and Dick Donovan. Wilson faced a minimum of 27 batters in the opener although he gave up two singles to Baltimore. Donovan allowed seven hits.

Files for New Trial

JEFFERSON, Ohio (AP)—Defense attorneys have filed two motions in Ashtabula County Common Pleas Court on behalf of Arthur Lee Cole, 47, of Ashtabula, convicted last Wednesday of slaying Ashtabula Patrolman Eino Tiovola last Oct. 21. One motion seeks a new trial and the other suggests a special inquiry by the court of Cole's sanity.

Waldo Defeats Edison's Nine

In a Tri-County League High school summer baseball game Saturday, Waldo clipped the Edison nine, 5-1.

The victors sent Carl Bumgardner to the hill to go the route and register the win, accounting for 13 strikeouts along the way. Ted Coonfare was the Waldo backstop.

Edison started Murray on the rubber, with Baughman coming on in relief in the fifth inning. The losing hurlers registered a total of six strikeouts. Gibson was the Tiger catcher.

Waldo's Bumgardner issued five bases on balls; Baughman and Murray sent four Edison batters strolling.

All told, Waldo racked up five runs on eight hits and made two errors. Edison had one run on three safeties and was also charged with a brace of bobbles.

Waldo scored twice in the third inning, two more times in the fourth and once in the seventh. Edison's lone tally came in the sixth.

The victors got to Murray in the third when Bumgardner started things off with a walk. Buckingham singled, sending Bumgardner to second, and Rengert singled to load the bases. Gearhiser singled to score Bumgardner and Buckingham came home on Edwards' hit.

In the fourth frame, Augenstein walked. Bumgardner doubled, scoring Augenstein, went to third on Buckingham's sacrifice and scored on Rengert's single. Gearhiser's double and Ward's single produced the final Waldo tally.

Edison struck pay dirt in the sixth when Bumgardner walked Seitz and Murray. Seitz was thrown out trying to take third, with Murray going to second on the play. Murray then stole third and came in on Williams' hit.

Waldo will face the Prospect nine at 8 p.m. Wednesday on the Bulldog diamond.

Marionites Drop 1-0 Decision After 10-Inning Struggle

The Marion Independents softball team lost another Ohio Big Eight Fast Ball League game Saturday, falling to Lorain 1-0 in 10 innings.

The game turned out to be a pitching duel between Marion's Bud Thorpe and Lorain's Kuhn, with both twirlers allowing but five hits apiece. It was the sixth straight defeat for the locals. Lorain was the 1957 loop champion.

Not until the 10th inning was winning run tallied. Until that time, Marion had had seven men on, five of them in scoring position. Kuhn, however, was equal to the task when the chips were down. The Independents had their big chance in the sixth. Dick Gherman and Jim Riley got on with back-to-back singles and no one out. But that was it. Marion's three big hitters — Johnson, Walters and McCrery — followed up with a pop-up, ground ball and fly to center to kill the rally.

More Sports On Page 18

Three Marion double plays kept Lorain from scoring earlier in the fracas. Six visitors reached first on walks, with Lorain's most potent threat being mounted in the ninth. Watson led off with a double. Paulak, 1957 batting champ, was purposely passed. Butchko ground to second. Marion's Fritz Walters scooped up the ball, stepped on second forcing Paulak and pegged to first in time to get Butchko.

In the 10th Lorain reached pay dirt. Smith led off with a single and moved to second on an infield error. Thorpe bore down to fan the next two batters. However, Hicks, next man up, walked. Then Watson, with a count of 0-1 singled to left, Smith scoring from second.

Marion put two men on in the bottom of the 10th but could not improve the advantage.

Gherman got two hits in five trips and is now batting .381. Watson, with a double and single, was top banana for Lorain.

Toledo will be in town Saturday for a 6:30 game in Lincoln Park with the Independents. In the first meeting between the two clubs, Marion was downed, 5-3.

Radio and Television

By JOHN CROSBY

Broadcasters Have Right to Opinions

John Crosby is in Europe. His column will be resumed on his return.

Broadcasters are sometimes accused of having no "guts." Why don't stations take editorial stands the way newspapers do, goes the argument. After all, they've had the right to editorialize ever since it was recognized by the Federal Communications Commission back in 1949.

And of late, a number of important people have been saying that we should be more than a medium of entertainment and transmit ideas as well as sales messages.

By editorializing, they maintain, we will not only be performing a public service but adding to the vitality and prestige of TV and radio.

Such exhortations have come from people as far apart politically as Vice President Richard Nixon and Sen. Lyndon Johnson, FCC Chairman Doerfer, as well as from outstanding industry figures like Ed Murrow and columist John Crosby.

-:-

NO ONE, for example, is certain yet just how the TV editorial ought to be handled. There's far more involved than finding the right words.

Some of us think that a straightforward statement by station management is probably the best thing, others that delivery by a newscaster is quite proper. Still others feel the documentary technique is the most effective and desirable.

A number are attracted to the brief spot announcement which hits one basic idea and is repeated many times.

These are among the approaches with which the industry is now experimenting—and arguing.

Before you leap to a position on what is proper, keep in mind that broadcasting has no long and honored editorial tradition to guide it such as newspapers enjoy and that definitive patterns will have to come from experience.

To begin with there is the matter of definition. By an editorial we mean an expression of the views of the station just as a newspaper editorial is an expression of the views of the newspaper.

That is why we feel it should be delivered by a management representative rather than by a newscaster or commentator, with whom the audience is likely to identify it.

-:-

THE EDITORIAL should not, in our view, be part of a news program or associated with it in any way.

It is essential that the barrier between reporting and editorializing be kept as high as is humanly possible. The same barrier must exist, of course, between advertising and the editorial.

Then we think we should limit these efforts to the times when there's a community situation worth editorializing about and not waste our own and the viewer's time with trivia.

There's something a little ridiculous about a forthright statement against sin or in favor of Mother's Day when it issues from a TV screen. We don't intend, in short, to editorialize on a regularly scheduled basis.

Why this careful approach? Because of a healthy respect for what this medium of ours can do.

If you saw the effective 90 minute editorial presentation by CBS last February called "Where We Stand," you can readily grasp the nature of the challenge. It stems from the sheer impact of TV, its unique ability to create public awareness.

-:-

TO ME, this means that just as it is our responsibility to realize the medium's potential to the full, so is it our responsibility not to abuse it for evil or selfish ends.

And there is an obvious need to exercise restraint and good taste in execution, as guests in the home.

In any event, it is pretty clear that the editorial will add a new dimension to television, a new depth and richness that will increase its vitality as a medium of communications.

There may still be some people who think this is all a mistake, who feel that the broadcaster should allow expression of everybody's opinion but his own.

Well, it seems to me that for a young industry, we have gone pretty far along the road of maturity.

Our record in the field of news and informational programming is a pretty respectable one when you look at the over-all performance of a medium that must serve many functions at once. By this time, we ought to be entitled to have opinions too.

Many Groups Use Camp's Facilities

Scheduled for camping sessions during various weeks of July and August at the Maranatha Bible Camp near Big Island are church groups from Ironton, Akron, Findlay, Crestline, Dennison, New Philadelphia, Dover and other places throughout the state, the Rev. Earl Hlidy f Mrn, cmp directr,'aoeasa Holliday of Marion, camp director, announced today.

Camp development is progressing toward the goal of 100-bed lodging facilities with the construction of three more buildings, he said. Nearly complete are four rest rooms, a bath house with showers and running hot and cold water and other conveniences and a canteen building. A plastic pool nearly 20 feet in diameter and 30 inches deep will be installed soon. Athletic equipment is available to all groups. Weaver Hall, the dining room on the grounds, will seat 130.

Various groups have arranged day or weekend camps. At present overnight housing will accommodate up to 75 campers with addition of cots to the 64 beds available.

Fishing and boating is permitted to campers in Lake Calm where there are anchored rafts. Swimming is limited to "qualified swimmers" and is permitted only when a life guard is present.

Camping period for Maranatha Bible Church young people will be Aug. 3 to Sept. 1 with Springfield, Akron and Dennison ministers and other counselors in charge. It is hoped that many underprivileged young people may be enrolled.

WILL SING FOR BENEFIT. The Lima Uncalled Four, one of the leading barbershop quartets in Ohio, will be among the vocal groups on the program of the Barbershop Quartet Benefit Concert Wednesday, June 18, in the Harding High School auditorium. The concert, which is being sponsored by the Marion County Council of Retarded Children for the benefit of retarded boys and girls in the county, will begin at 8 p.m. This Lima barbershop quartet, comprised of Ron Williams, Layne Bushong, Mooney Willis and Cliff Willis (left to right), was among the 10 finalists in the SPEBSQSA finals held over the weekend in Columbus. Other groups appearing Wednesday night will be Marion's Buckeye Four, the Upper Crusts of Upper Sandusky, the Rich Cords of Richwood and the entire Marion SPEBSQSA chorus. Tickets may be procured at local banks, from council members, at Schaffner's Furniture Store Tuesday, or at the door the night of the performance.

Charges Against 12 Toledo Policemen, Fireman Dropped

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Charges that 12 policemen and a fireman contributed to the delinquency of 17-year-old Marcella Rose were dismissed today after the girl refused to testify at their trial.

Common Pleas Judge Tom Stahl took the action on the recommendation of assistant Prosecutor Anthony Pizza.

Pizza said he talked to the girl this morning in the detention home and she told him she would continue to refuse to testify on grounds it might tend to incriminate her. She refused to talk at a grand jury hearing last week on the same grounds.

Also contributing to the downfall of the state's case was the disappearance of Marcella's parents who earlier had signed affidavits accusing the policemen and fireman of drinking with the girl and having sexual relations with her.

The parents were wanted as witnesses, but officers were unable to locate them to serve subpenas.

The 13 men still face departmental action. However, their attorney, Dan McCullough, said any testimony used in departmental hearings would have to be of the same nature as sought for the common pleas trials. He said the findings of any Civil Service hearings can be appealed to Common Pleas Court.

Names of the 13 men were found in an address book in Marcella's possession several weeks ago when she was caught naked with a youth in a parked car. That set off the investigation of police and firemen.

Crawford Court Cases Hit New High in May

Last month's civil actions included 19 for money and 16 divorce cases. The criminal cases included two for breaking and entering, one for auto theft, one for manslaughter and one non-support action.

During May, 13 divorces were granted by Judge John C. Carroll, the same number as was granted in April.

Sports Program For Girls Planned By Marion YMCA

New to the women and girls department at the Marion YMCA this summer is an active minor sports program for high school and college girls.

The program will include fundamentals and techniques of archery, golf and tennis.

Beginning June 25, the first session will meet at the "Y" at 10 a.m. for archery under the direction and supervision of Frank Lock, who is an active member of the Black Feather Bowman Club in Marion.

Golfing will be taught following archery at the Mar-O-Del Golf Course with girls meeting at the "Y" and going to the golf course together each Wednesday morning.

The fundamentals and technique of golfing will be under the supervision of James McBride, physical director at the "Y."

Also on the schedule will be some tennis instruction if time permits. These lessons will take place on the Harding High School tennis courts.

The above program is designed for high school and college girls who are members of the YMCA. There are tentative plans to continue with a football clinic in the fall.

Girls having bows and arrows, golf clubs and tennis equipment are asked to bring it with them to the class.

Registrations are being taken now for this new program. Summer "Y" memberships may be purchased for $5.

350 Entries Judged

Marion's Flower Show Attended by Over 1,000

More than 1,000 persons from all over Ohio and from Indiana and Michigan visited the Marion Flower Show held Saturday and Sunday at the West Town Branch of the National City Bank.

Entries in the three sections of the show — design, horticulture and the junior division — totaled at least 350.

The official judges and a number of other flower experts who visited the show acclaimed it one of the best they have seen.

"June Melodies" was the theme of the show which was sponsored by the Marion Garden Clubs. Cooperating units were Town and Country, House and Garden, Sun and Shade, Green Thumb, Garden Gate, Good Earth and Garden Path.

—:—

PRESENT TO take part in the two-day event were three Columbus television personalities. In Marion Saturday night to visit the show and welcome visitors were Tom and Pat Gleba. He appears on the "Tom Gleba Show" over Station WBNS, Channel 10, in Columbus. Participating in the show on Sunday was Jeanne Shea, who also has a program on television over Station WBNS.

A highlight of the show was a display of a rare collection of 24 American Rose Society annuals, covering the years from 1940 to 1955, which have been presented by O. C. Schlientz to the House and Garden Club.

Another outstanding part of the show was the education section in which an unusual variety of plants was displayed. Calvin Oborn of Oborn's Greenhouse displayed a great number of specimens of plant life found in and around Marion. William Hutchman showed geraniums and other plants which he has grown in his home greenhouse, and John Keggan of the Marion Flower Shop also displayed many specimens of plants.

—:—

JUDGES FOR the show were Mrs. John Butler of Gahanna, O., Mrs. W. C. Harrison and Mrs. Eunice Garnett, both of Columbus.

Mrs. Irma C. Waters of the Garden Gate club was flower show chairman, her co-chairman was Mrs. Harley Lewis, also of Garden Gate, and the show adviser was Mrs. William Hutchman of House and Garden.

Tri-color winners, regarded as the best in each division, were Mrs. Paul R. Williams, Garden Center president, in the design division, Mrs. Rudolph Metzger in the specimen division, and Pamela Harper in the junior division.

ARTIST'S VIEW OF OLYMPIC POOL. A drawing of the Marion Olympic Swimming Pool, now under construction on Rt. 95 east of the city, is shown here. A 1½-acre area around the pool inside the fence will be sodded for sunbathing. Outside the fence will be ample parking for automobiles and bicycles. An innovation will be ten 500-watt underwater lights to illuminate the pool for night swimming. The building in the foreground will house dressing rooms, an office, a snack bar and the pumping and filtration equipment, R. L. Goldhardt, president, reported. Target date for opening of the pool is July 4, he said. Construction of the bath house is to be started this week by Frank L. Warwick & Sons, Marion contractors.

Investigation Asked in Hardin County Relief Fund Shortages

KENTON — An announcement made here Friday by the Hardin County Welfare and Relief Department that food allowances to needy persons would be cut and other assistance discontinued for the remainder of the year prompted sending of a telegram appealing for help to Gov. C. William O'Neill by Andrew T. Durbin, state Democratic central committeeman, this morning.

In the wire Mr. Durbin suggested that some of the money being used for welfare administrative salaries, now totaling about $900 a month in Hardin County could be used to feed hungry people. He demanded an immedate answer as to the action the governor would take.

The announcement made by Mrs. Helen Schwemmer of the department Friday noted that effective June 1 only 80 per cent of food allowances would be issued to needy persons.

Need for the action was attributed by Mrs. Schwemmer to lack of funds. The amount of money now in the department's budget was not disclosed.

Current relief rolls show that 1,256 persons now are under relief. This figure has almost doubled in the last 12 months.

Commenting on the situation this morning, County Commissioner Elmer Kaylor said the commissioners will not take any action at present. He said they are hoping something will be done to rectify the situation in the coming special session of the legislature.

Relief funds currently come from national, state and local sources.

State Dept. Is Reversed on Passport Case

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court ruled today the State Department was wrong in denying passports to two applicants who refused to sign non-Communist affidavits.

The ruling applied to Rockwell Kent, 75-year-old artist, and Dr. Walter Briehl, Los Angeles psychiatrist.

Justice Douglas delivered the 5-4 decision. Justice Clark wrote a dissenting opinion, joined by Justices Burton, Harlan and Whittaker.

Joining Douglas in the majority were Chief Justice Warren and Justices Black, Frankfurter and Brennan.

Douglas said in the majority opinion that "We will not readily infer that Congress gave the secretary of state unbridled discretion" to withhold passports.

Douglas said the court would be faced with important constitutional questions if it were to hold that Congress had given the secretary authority to withhold passports to citizens because of their beliefs or associations.

Kent in 1955 asked for a passport to go to Europe to paint pictures. Dr. Briehl the same year asked for a passport to enable him to attend medical conventions in Geneva and Istanbul.

They were denied passports after declining to say whether they had ever been members of the Communist party.

Former Gov. Charles Edison of New Jersey owns a factory in Sag Harbor, Long Island, which manufactures electrical coils.

Delaware Man Is New Commander Of Ohio's Amvets

CLEVELAND (AP)—Ohio Amvets ended their three-day 13th annual convention here Sunday with the election of a slate of officers headed by E. Richard Sherman of Delaware, state commander.

Sherman, a veteran of 37 months in the Air Force, succeeds Dale R. Otto of Cincinnati.

Elected vice commanders were Charles G. Sowers of Norwood, Charles F. Seither of West Richfield, John H. Hengly of Columbus, George J. Demchik of Lorain, Dan F. Caputo of Toledo, and Mike Ona of Salem.

Julian C. Gura of Youngstown was named vice commander-at-large.

Officers chosen by the Amvets auxiliary included Shirley Greenfelder of Massillon, president; Eula Niebel of Findlay, senior vice president; Dortha Williams of Hamilton, junior vice president, and Jacquie Nedelka of Salem, secretary.

The Amvets will hold their convention next year in Cincinnati and will meet in Columbus in 1960.

London Strikes End

LONDON (AP) — Most of the 20,000 dock workers whose month-long strike jeopardized London's food supplies returned to work today on union orders.

A back-to-work vote was under way also among 50,000 striking London bus workers. It appeared likely that the stoppage, now in its seventh week, would be over by Wednesday or Thursday.

The dockers had walked off the job in sympathy with a group of meat truck drivers who are still on their unofficial strike. The drivers sought higher wages.

Efforts by U.S. To Get Release Of 9 GIs Fail

BERLIN (AP) — The United States failed today—in its second contact with Communist East Germany—to win the release of nine U.S. Army men held prisoner.

Responsible diplomatic sources said the Communists insisted again that the helicopter case be negotiated on a government-to-government level.

East Germany's Foreign Ministry rejected a compromise formula on protocol put forward by the American negotiator, U.S. Army Col. Robert B. McQuail of Bluefield, W.Va.

In a 40-minute meeting at the ministry, McQuail reportedly presented credentials from Gen. H. I. Hodes, the U.S. commander in chief for Europe. He also indicated he was negotiating with the approval of the State Department.

Seeking international prestige for their regime, the Communists apparently demanded that McQuail show diplomatic accreditation.

McQuail walked into the ministry at noon. He was accompanied by Maj. Raymond J. McRory Jr., of Wauwatosa, Wis., of the U.S. liaison mission in Potsdam, and three soldiers who kept newsmen from getting close enough to ask questions.

The first contact was made Saturday by McQuail, chief liaison officer to the Soviet army in East Germany. It reversed a U.S. policy of no direct dealings with the East Germans.

The prisoners — eight officers and a sergeant from the 3rd Armored Division in West Germany —were seized by the Reds June 7 when their helicopter strayed across the Iron Curtain in a thunderstorm.

Dayton Entry Captures Ohio Shooting Title

FINDLAY, Ohio (AP)—The new Ohio handicap trapshooting champion is M. E. Hytes of Dayton.

Hytes broke 98 of 100 traps, firing from a distance of 21 yards, to lead a field of 481 marksmen in the handicap Sunday. It was the biggest field in the event's history.

The handicap was the top event in four days of competition.

A Canadian, Russell Pillon of Harrow, Ont., also broke 98 traps in the handicap, but as a nonresident of Ohio was ineligible for the title. Pillon fired from 23 yards.

Don Roberson of Middletown brought down 96 traps, also from 23 yards, to place third.

Most accurate shooter at the meet was Dale Millar of Ashville, who broke 666 of a possible 700 traps in all events. Joe Hiestand of Hillsboro came close to Millar with a 665 score.

Among those who pressed Hytes for the handicap championship were O. B. Helton of Hamilton, who broke 95 targets, and Art Sense of Akron, Dean Mossinger of Elida, and E. H. Snyder of Delphos, who all broke 94.

Mrs. H. B. Rader of Jeffersonville led women in the field by cracking 93 traps from 21 yards.

Saturday the doubles championship was won by Earl Goetz of Mansfield, who broke 18 traps in a 20-trap shootoff with Hiestand after both had scored 94.

In doubles competition, two targets are launched simultaneously. The shooter must break one, but cannot fire twice at the same target.

Officers elected Saturday night by the Ohio Trapshooting Assn. are George Henderson of Bowling Green, president; Roy Davidson of Middletown, vice president, and Hugh McKinley of Harrisburg, secretary-treasurer.

Davis of Bucks Breaks Mark In 440 Event

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — Track and field stars head for the National AAU championships at Bakersfield, Calif., this week after setting one world mark, three American standards and six NCAA records at the 37th annual national collegiate competition.

Ohio State's Glenn Davis, who already held the world record for the 400-meter hurdles, flashed the 440-yard dash in 45.7 seconds, one-tenth lower than the world mark set in 1956 by Jim Lea, former University of Southern California ace.

Other American records fell to Alex Henderson of Arizona State College at Temple in the two-mile with 8 minutes 46.3 seconds and to Charlie Tidwell of Kansas with 22.7 for the 220-yard low hurdles around a curve.

The three additional NCAA meet records went to Pacific Lutheran's javelin thrower John Fromm with a toss of 257 feet 1 inch; Ed Collymore of Villanova with 20.7 for the 220-yard dash around a curve and to his Irish teammate Ron Delany with 4:03.5 in the mile.

Radnor Defeated In Pair of Games

RADNOR — Radnor's baseball nine suffered defeats in both of its weekend starts at the home field.

Saturday night, the local team dropped a 7-5 decision to Buckeye Sports in a Mark Stephens Memorial League encounter and Sunday London handed the locals their first setback in Sunday Amateur League play 4-2.

The Columbus team shoved over three runs in the first inning Saturday night. It added one in the second and three in the sixth. Radnor scored single runs in the second, third, fourth and fifth. Roger McCombs and Lowell Strohl slapped bases-empty home runs.

The losers left 11 runners stranded on the bases. They outhit the winners 9-5. Dale Denny was the winning pitcher with Dave Masters taking the loss.

London also clinched its win in the first inning, pushing over three runs. After that lapse, Art Steel allowed only two base runners until back to back doubles in the ninth scored London's final tally.

Bob Murray, London manager, banged out three hits. Bill Stuart collected three, including a double, for Radnor while Lowell Taylor and Don Holley had two each.

Radnor will meet Wood Plumbers of Columbus Saturday night at 8 p.m. and will travel to Upper Arlington Sunday to battle Larcomb Builders. Tuesday night, the Radnor high school team will play host to New Bloomington at 8 p.m.

Marion Area Auto Mishaps

A housetrailer was only slightly damaged when it jackknifed and careened into a fence Sunday at 8:45 a.m. along Rt. 30-S in the single county accident reported today by Marion post patrolmen.

Officers said the mishap occurred eight miles west of here when the auto pulling the rig, driven by Frances Ida Cox, 26, of Nappance, Ind., swerved off the right side of the highway, causing the trailer to jackknife.

The damaged fence was owned by Richard Fiedler of near LaRue.

Boy Hurt in Mishap

One person was injured in one of six traffic accidents investigated over the weekend by Marion police.

Hurt when his motor bike and a car collided at W. Center and Orchard streets at 10:47 p.m. Sunday was Daniel M. Giesige, 15, of near Harpster.

He suffered a bruised right wrist and knee. He was treated and released at Marion General Hospital.

The driver of the car was L. L. Weiser, 17, of 168 Johns St. He was driving east on W. Center and Daniel was riding his motorbike west, making a left turn onto Orchard St.

A bicyclist escaped injury when he was struck by a car in the 1000 block of Bennett St. at 11:49 a.m. Saturday.

He was Ronald Newell, 10, of 1116 Bennett St. He rode across Bennett St. into the path of a westbound car driven by Vernon Curren, 24, of near Marion, police said.

A hit-skip car struck a car parked in the 100 block on Bain Ave. at 9:30 p.m. Sunday. The parked car was owned by Miss Philomen H. Gregg of 586 Delaware Ave.

A car parked in the 600 block on E. George St. and owned by W. A. White of 607 E. George St was struck at 3:15 p.m. Saturday by a car driven by John W. Blue, 46, of 197½ E. Center St.

Each of the other two accidents in the city caused less than $100 total damage, police estimated.

Galion Driver Treated After Traffic Crash

BUCYRUS — A Galion man was treated for injuries at Galion Community Hospital after his auto went out of control on Rt. 30-N, five miles west of Crestline and struck a tree Saturday night.

Investigating patrolmen of the local post said James D. Haycook, 24, sustained abrasions of the neck, arm and leg and contusions of the chest and knee.

According to the report his westbound vehicle went off the right side of the road and was demolished when it struck the tree. The mishap occurred five miles west of Crestline at 6:30 p.m. It still is under investigation, officers said.

Two autos were considerably damaged when they collided at the intersection of Rt. 61 and Crawford County Rd. 77, just south of Crestline at 3:40 p.m. Saturday, patrolmen said.

Cars involved were driven by Clair C. Ridgway, 58, of 440 Elmwood Dr., Marion, and Jack L. Holmes, 21, of Crestline, according to the report.

Officers said the eastbound Holmes auto drove into the intersection and crossed the path of the Ridgway vehicle, northbound on Rt. 6, when the two collided.

Holmes was charged with failure to yield the right of way and failure to have a license. He will appear before Mayor Albert Smith of Crestline June 19, patrolmen said.

Tito Trades Charges

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP) —President Tito and the Soviet bloc swapped broadsides Sunday. Tito defended his acceptance of U.S. aid, and Peiping radio compared him with Judas Iscariot for taking the American help.

Tito asked a crowd of 50,000 in the coal mining town of Labin what right Nikita Khrushchev had to attack Yugoslavia for getting U.S. aid when the Soviet Premier himself was soliciting credit from Washington.

Louise Suggs Notches Third Links Victory

MARBLEHEAD, Mass. (AP)—Louise Suggs says her golf game is better than it has been in a long time. As proof, she points to three victories in the last five tournaments.

"I've been hitting the ball very well this week," the affable Sea Island, Ga., veteran said Sunday after winning the $12,000 Round Robin Women's Invitation tournament at Tedesco Country Club.

"In fact, I've been hitting the ball better than I have in a long time," she added. "I've been working on timing and keeping within myself.

"I'm not trying to hit so hard. Instead, I've been concentrating on just meeting the ball firmly."

In the unusual 90-hole point-system tourney based on four-some play, Miss Suggs finished with a plus 51, Marlene Hagge plus 49, Patty Berg plus 30, Kathy Cornelius plus 24 and Alice Bauer plus 17 in a field of 16.

Nelson Leads Toronto Team To Two Wins

By The Associated Press

Rocky Nelson, the red hot first baseman for the Toronto Maple Leafs of the International League, apparently has no intention of cooling off.

In leading his team to a double triumph Sunday against the Havana Sugar Kings, 7-3 and 9-1, he went 4-for-7, including his 23rd home run of the season. The double victory enabled the Maple Leafs to stay within a half game of the front-running Montreal Royals, who also won two. Nelson now leads the league in batting with .348 to Bob Lenon's .341.

The Royals beat the Miami Marlins 7-2 and 9-4. The Rochester Red Wings beat the Richmond Virginians 6-2 and 5-1, and the Buffalo Bisons beat the Columbus Jets 4-1 after losing 6-2.

George Witt fanned 13 in winning the opener for the Jets. Spook Jacobs, hero of the first game with three hits, became the goat in the second when he committed an error that opened the door to four unearned runs in the third inning.

Marion's Legion Nine Beaten Twice

The Marion American Legion Junior Baseball team dropped a double header at Newark Sunday, evening its record at two wins and two setbacks.

Marion was limited to three singles in dropping the opener 3-0 and managed only two safeties in dropping the nightcap 10-0.

Newark scored a pair of runs in the second inning of the opener on a Marion error, a stolen base, a hit batsman, two bases on balls and a single. The final run in the fifth was scored on a single, a stolen base, a wild pitch and sacrifice fly.

Pete Porietis, Rockey Evans and Larry Ishida collected Marion's only hits. Larry Ambrose went the route on the mound. He struck out one, walked one and gave up seven hits. Gill, the winning hurler, struck out 11 and walked two.

Six Marion errors allowed five unearned runs in Newark's nightcap romp. Evans, Don Conkle and Stan Larkin shared the pitching for Marion and were nicked for 13 safeties. Bob Wilson and Evans had the only hits for Marion.

The same two teams will play a pair of games next Sunday afternoon at Lincoln Park.

Ohio Regulations Loose

Fireworks Bootlegging Lucas County Problem

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) —Every year about this time, northern Lucas County becomes an unwilling midwest mecca for illegal sale of fireworks.

Bootleg stands, their operators posing as wholesalers, shoot up like skyrockets outside city limits and the sheriff faces weeks of scampering to run them out of business.

A loose fireworks law in Ohio and a tight one in neighboring Michigan make the task a tough one.

Ohio law permits sale of fireworks "at wholesale" and provides little control beyond that. To make a case under the state law, authorities must observe a retail sale on the spot.

Michigan, just a few minutes drive from Toledo, has a law that forbids its residents to sell fireworks, give them away, display or possess them, transport them, use them or explode them, among other things.

"As a result," said Sheriff William Hirsch, "Michigan people come pouring into Lucas County to buy fireworks."

"The stands draw people from other states, too," Hirsch added. "I've seen auto plates from all over at those stands, particularly on weekends."

The fact that Toledo and suburban Maumee have effective laws prohibiting wholesale or retail display of fireworks only serves to add customers for the bootleg stands in the townships.

Hirsch said the fireworks situation in Lucas County undoubtedly is the worst in the state. He said between 35 and 40 bootleg stands operated in the county last year under the guise of wholesaling, and estimated the number would be about the same this year.

However, a new legal tack this year may prove to be the way to pull the fuse from the fireworks problem.

County authorities are using township zoning laws to supplement the customary approach through state law.

In Adams and Washington Townships, two of the trouble spots, zoning laws permit storage of fireworks or explosives only in areas zoned for heavy industry. At the discretion of the court, fines up to $100 a day may be imposed under what the zoning laws term "nuisances" are abated.

Using the zoning laws, the prosecutor obtains temporary injunctions against owners of property on which fireworks have been stored and sheriff's deputies impound the explosives as evidence.

Studies Slated For Old-Aged Benefit Ruling

WASHINGTON (AP)—The biennial election-year drive in Congress to liberalize Social Security benefits opens today before the House Ways and Means Committee.

With the possible exception of cost-of-living increases for some classes of old-age beneficiaries, the Eisenhower administration is opposed to any across-the-board liberalization of benefits.

For the first time in its history the system this year is paying out more in benefits than it is taking in, although trustees reported to Congress last Friday the situation is temporary and not unexpected.

But the political appeal of doing something for the "old folks" is strong in Congress. In 1950, 1952, 1954 and 1956 Congress voted to liberalize the system. And 1958 is another election year.

Consideration of any broad-scale revisions of the law probably will be left for the next Congress, but improvements in the scale of benefits are considered possible this year.

Sukarno Hits Rebels

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — President Sukarno's government launched a full-scale land, sea and air attack in the North Celebes today to crush the last major stronghold of the four-month-old rebellion.

The Indonesian navy said the invasion force landed at daybreak 20 miles from Menado, the North Celebres rebel capital.

The government strategy apparently was to seal off the tip of the 20-mile-wide North Celebes peninsula for a final assault on the volcano-ringed seaport.

Announce Way To Help Drain All 8 Sinus Cavities Without Discomfort

New decongestant tablet for sinus congestion sufferers acts both to drain clogged sinus cavities and relieve distressing head pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) Announcement has been made of a new tablet development which has the remarkable ability to help drain clogged sinus cavities and thus relieve congestion and pressure. The headaches, pressure pains, stuffed-up head, nasal drip, clogged breathing—all the unrelenting symptoms the sinus sufferer knows so well—are attacked directly by improving drainage of the sinus areas.

Most remarkable of all is the fact that this is accomplished with extraordinary speed and without discomfort of any kind. This new tablet does its remarkable work internally, through the blood stream. It deposits into every drop of blood plasma a new medication which is carried to the sinus area, where it shrinks the swollen doors to the sinus cavities and helps drain away the pain-causing pressure and congestion.

The shrinking substance in this new tablet has been so successful topically in promoting drainage of the sinus cavities that it is now prescribed more widely by doctors than any material for this purpose. This new medication is now available at drug counters without the need for a prescription under the name, Dristan® Tablets. Dristan Tablets cost only 98¢ for a bottle of 24 tablets. Buy and use Dristan Tablets with the absolute guarantee that they will drain away pain-causing pressure and congestion of the sinus cavities, relieve the pain and distress, or purchase price will be refunded.

New York Stock Market

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market turned irregular in fairly active trading early this afternoon.

Gains and losses of key stocks went from fractions to about a point.

The market's latest drive into new high ground for 1958 stumbled on profit taking.

Rails held a fairly good edge to the upside. Coppers, chemicals and aircrafts broke up an early pattern of gains although some remained well ahead. Tobaccos and selected issues performed well. Steel were mixed. Motors leaned to the upside.

Gains of around a point were made by American Cyanamid, Du Pont, Goodrich, Douglas Aircraft and Eastern Gas & Fuel.

Small gains were posted by New York Central, Illinois Central, Southern Railway, Baltimore & Ohio, Youngstown Sheet, General Motors, U.S. Rubber, Loew's, Phelps, Dodge and Sears Roebuck.

Off a bit were United Aircraft, Goodyear, Sinclair, U. S. Steel, International Telephone and Commonwealth Edison. Union Carbide dropped about a point.

U. S. government bonds declined.

French Novelist Hottest Literary Figure Today

NEW YORK (AP)—French Novelist Pierre Boule is currently the hottest literary figure for screen and stage.

Boule, author of "The Bridge On the River Kwai," upon which this year's Oscar-winning film was based, recently sold screen rights to Otto Preminger for a forthcoming book.

He has now assigned to Robert L. Joseph the stage rights to still another work, "Face of a Hero." Joseph, who produced "Major Barbara" on Broadway last season, expects to double as adapter as well as producer of the Boule story.

State Farmers Honored At Annual Lunch Here

Approximately 150 persons attended the 14th annual Future Farmers of America Honor Luncheon held under sponsorship of radio station WMRN at Hotel Harding Saturday.

Purpose of the event was to pay tribute to those FFA youths in Marion and area chosen as State Farmer degree winners. There were 45 of them honored at Saturday's fete, including seven from Marion county, five from Crawford, 10 from Delaware, 11 from Hardin, seven from Union, one from Morrow and five from Wyandot.

In addition, recognition was given of this year's Star Farmers, including Joe F. Isler Jr. of Prospect, star beef producer: Gene Isler, also of Prospect, pork; Jerome Donovan Jr., Delaware, dairy; Allen Walton, Upper Sandusky, broilers; Robert Gray, Byhalia-York, lamb; and Tom Geyer, Marysville, grain.

Prospect's Darrel Gerfen was recognized as the state's top record keeper.

TOASTMASTER of the affair was Charles Might, farm director of WMRN. He introduced Robert T. Mason, general manager of the Marion Broadcasting Co.; James Hay, director of the Ohio Department of Agriculture; D. R. Purkey, executive secretary of Ohio FFA; James Rengert of Mount Gilead, past state FFA secretary; and Howard Isler, newly-elected state vice president, among others.

Guest speaker for the program was Ollie E. Fink, executive secretary of Friends of the Land, a group dedicated to the conservation of soil and water whose projects include a move to make the late Louis Bromfield's Malabar Farm into a show place of conservation endeavors.

Mr. Fink spoke on the importance of conserving water. He observed that water meant food, power, advancement and, ultimately, survival.

He delcared that three of every four persons in the world today are undernourished and suggested that the reason, in most respects, was the lack of water to grow food. India was cited as an example. Mr. Fink also asserted that the democratic system we in the United States enjoy today may well be overthrown if the time ever arrives when we find that we have used up our natural resources.

THE SPEAKER pointed out that today there are about three acres of cropland per person in the world at large. "In the not too distant future we may find that figure cut to two acres, then perhaps one and a half," Mr. Fink said, and added: "When that time comes, our democracy will be endangered, for people without plenty are they who turn to more idealistic notions of government."

Mr. Fink concluded his talk by appealing to each and every American to do what he or she could to conserve the water and other natural resources which make this country the great nation it is. "Water is wealth," he said, "without which we can not long hope to endure."

Mr. Hay commented briefly on the overall picture of agriculture. He said he was disturbed to hear so much pessimism in today's talk concerning the farm situation. "I don't like it," he asserted, adding: "If we can't face agriculture as we know it today with optimism, we may be in trouble."

The director of the Ohio agriculture department suggested that farming is too important a segment of our economy today to allow for pessimism. "It is directly connected with each and every phase of our economy. And we in agriculture, above all, must not look on it with anything less than optimism for its future," he said.

Introduced at program's end were area vocational - agriculture teachers, county extension directors and home economists and those boys who are FFA American Farmers. The presence of Gordon Eichhorn of Pleasant, Star Farmer of America in 1945, also was recognized.
